Rev. C. H. Goodling Adds His Testimony to That of Rev. W. W. Rhoads in Support of Jacob S. Herman's Good Name and Moral Character.

REV. C. H. GOODLING, formerly pastor of the Evangelical church at Lemont and at Bellefonte, now in charge of the Evangelical church at Lewistown, addressed the following communication to Miss Nellie Herman, daughter of the Republican candidate for Sheriff, Jacob S. Herman, in response to a letter from Miss Herman touching upon the Democratic slander against her father. Comment upon the letter is unnecessary. It speaks for itself and demonstrates how basely false are the charges made against Mr. Herman's character and private life by his Democratic traducers. The Democratic vilifiers of Mr. Herman dare not impugn the testimony of Mr. Goodling. He knows Mr. Herman and is himself well and favorably known to the people of Centre County with whom he lived for many years. It is unfortunate indeed, that ministers of the Gospel are obliged to enter the arena of political strife and action, but when political "character assassins" ply, as they have been and are now doing, the contemptible and abject arts of their trade against a political opponent the "victim's" friends, if they are true to themselves and their friendships, must set aside personal feelings and come to the assistance of the friend and neighbor whom they know to be worthy of their friendship and esteem. Rev. Goodling and Rev. Rhoads are men of this stamp and all honor is due them for their willingness and promptness in speaking in the defense of their good friend and co-laborer :

LEWISTOWN, PA., Oct 25, 1899

MISS NELLIE HERMAN :

I have the highest regard for your papa, and would cheerfully do anything for you I can, but you ask me a kind of peculiar question. First, I don't know what the Democratic papers have published—only what you state in your letter, namely, that he is not a member of the church. That is true enough, but that he is not in sympathy with the church and her work is not true. Although not professing to be a practical Christian himself, he always, in the four years I was pastor, was not only in hearty sympathy with the church, but always insisted upon his children attending as well as himself. He heartily supported it with his means and was an active librarian of the Sunday school those four years—one of the best librarians I have ever seen. This I can truthfully say of him.

Tell your papa to take the whole letter to Mr. Harter, editor of the Gazette, and let him publish as much of it as he sees fit.

Very truly,
C. H. GOODLING.

Voters remember that Aguinaldo, the leader of the revolt against the American arms in the Philippines is praying for the success of the Democratic party. Shall the prayers of a rebel chief be answered?

Some Reasons Why You Should Vote the Republican Ticket.

A PERUSAL of the President's Thanksgiving Proclamation will give its reader some food for thought and quiet reflection. It contains several cogent and persuasive reasons why the voters of Pennsylvania should give their hearty support to the Republican ticket this fall. The reasons referred to are these ; give them heedful consideration :

"Seldom has this nation had greater cause for profound thanksgiving."

"Liberal employment waits upon labor."

"Abundant crops have rewarded the efforts of the husbandman."

"Increased comforts have come to the home."

"The national finances have been strengthened and public credit has been sustained and made firmer."

"In all branches of industry and trade there has been an unequaled degree of prosperity."

"The happy and fortunate condition so briefly yet comprehensively expressed in the foregoing sentences is truly attributable to the wise and politic administration of National affairs by a Republican President and a Republican Congress. Don't you think you owe it to yourself, your family, yes, and your state and country to vote for the candidates who represent the party that has brought prosperity and happiness to your home? Be loyal and steadfast to your benefactor and vote the straight Republican ticket.

IF the voters of Centre County are debating in their mind the advisability of excluding Jim Strohm from further association with the official family of the county as a member of that household. we suggest that the case of Cal Harper be considered at the same time and in the same connection. He has been an almost constant recipient of public favor ever since his appointment as Deputy Prothonotary in 1876. The Democratic cry against Jim Strohm "give others a share" must make Cal Harper shake in his boots because he is chief among those who have a long, long pull at the County Treasury charged up against them. Such objection as this against a candidate is all rot. If his past record in public office is creditable to himself and the office he held, past public favor cannot be considered detrimental to further official preferment. Vote for Strohm ; the record he will make as Register will prove the wisdom of your choice.

HIGH personal character, exemplary habits and incontestable ability characterizes the candidacy of Nelson E. Robb for Recorder of Centre County. His election would establish the fact that the citizens of Centre County desire only good and meritorious men in public office. Vote for Nelson E. Robb.

—The election of Allison and Williams will give the county two Auditors whose service will be in the interest of the county and taxpayers. Vote for Allison and Williams.

Vote the Ticket from top to bottom. Don't scratch a name but vote it Straight

Every man named on this Ticket is worthy of your cordial support at the Polls.

OUR people surely remember how successfully (?) the Democratic party ran the National government during the four years preceding the present administration when they were in full control of the ship of state. They have acquired that knowledge by a bitter experience. Do you imagine then that the Democratic party in Pennsylvania or Centre County is better qualified and fitted to administer the affairs of the State and county than the Republican party? Compare the past conditions with the present conditions and judge for yourselves. Democratic power stands for mismanagement and financial disaster. Republican rule stands for good government and business prosperity. There should be no hesitation in deciding your choice. Vote the straight Republican State and County ticket and be on the safe and right side.

GET OUT THE VOTE.

The important occupation of the Republican workers on election day will be to get out the full party vote. It is incumbent upon every Republican in Centre County to put forth his very best individual effort in this direction. There must be no apathy, no unconcern, no indifference among the true and loyal Republicans on election day ; there must be no "too busy to go to the polls" excuse or plea given by any Republican on election day. Every voter in the party should interest himself in the success of the State and County ticket and work diligently and unceasingly on election day to this end. There should not be a single Republican vote permitted to go by default where it is possible for the voter to get to the polls. Do not hang back and say "Oh, there will be enough votes without mine," or "My vote will not make any difference one way or the other." There will not be enough without yours, Mr. Republican, and it will make considerable difference to our ticket if there prove to be many Republicans in the county who think as you do. It is not fair to the candidates who are the representatives of your party for you to withhold your support from the ticket and shirk your duty next Tuesday. You certainly owe it to the Republican party to give its nominees your support this fall. Has not the party been true to its promise? Has it not provided employment for Centre County's small army of workingmen? Has it not advanced the price of labor in all branches of industrial trade? Has it not enlarged and extended the volume of business in Centre County? What claim has the Democratic party to your support and favor? What has it done for you except to cause you misfortune, privation and destitution? It deprived you of employment! It reduced your income; indeed, in countless instances it entirely destroyed it? It crippled your business and diminished the earnings of your investments! Why, then, should you now, of all times, aid it in its endeavors to regain ascendancy? If you do not go to the polls and exercise your right of suffrage you will be courting the return of the "dark days" through which you passed during the Democratic regime. Do not fail to register your approval of your party's course next Tuesday. You can well afford to devote at least a portion of your time on election day to service in the interest of the Republican ticket. Buckle on your armor and get into the fray. You, as beneficiaries of Republican prosperity, should seek and fill your place on the firing line. An old election day saying is "Vote early and often ;" just paste this in your hat and do as it directs: "Vote early and often"—vote early yourself and vote often your friends and neighbors—every voter you bring to the polls will be a vote credited to you. Urge your neighbor to take the time to go to the polls. Do not allow him to neglect his duty. Be sure to vote yourself and assist as best you can to get every Republican vote out in your locality or district. In this way you will be truly voting "early and often." Be loyal to the party of your choice and the candidates who represent it. Give your local committeeman your earnest and active assistance. It is labor in a good cause and you unquestionably owe it to your party to be faithful and zealous in its interests. Get out the full party vote.

PHILIP H. MEYER, the Democratic candidate for Commissioner, was once before a petitioner for public recognition and for the same office he now seeks. The people of Centre County deemed their interests best served at that time by disregarding his supplication and placing the responsibility of the office of County Commissioner in other more competent hands. Philip H. Meyer is today the Philip H. Meyer of then and the same reasons that existed in the past against his election are still in force. If he was not qualified and worthy then he is surely not now Vote for Fisher and Riddle ; they have proven themselves capable and efficient, honest and trustworthy.

—Vote for Matthew F. Riddle and Thomas W. Fisher for Commissioners.

IF Bryan and his fellow agitators believe it proper and good politics to urge the voters of Kentucky, Ohio and Nebraska to rebuke President McKinley and his administrative policy at the approaching election, why should not the Republican leaders and spell-binders in Pennsylvania importune and counsel the voters of the Keystone State to rally to the support of the President and give him a forcible and decided vote of confidence and indorsement next Tuesday? Vote for Brown, Mitchell and Barnett and serve notice to the Nation that Pennsylvania is for McKinley, sound money, protection and expansion first, last and all the time —Vote for Honest Jake Herman for Sheriff.

THE American people in general, and those in Illinois particularly, will hail with delight the passing of Senator Bill Mason from the United States Senate. The one fear is that he may forget his threat to resign when the crucial moment arrives and conclude to continue the Senate chamber as the scene of his unamerican performances and impose ad libitum his bluster and bunkum upon a long suffering and patient people. This man Mason enjoys the unique distinction, and there are others, of being not only a U. S. S., but also an A. S. S.

—Dr Peter W. Leitzell as Coroner of Centre county could not be excelled. He has talent. He has ability. He has progressiveness. He is a Republican. Vote for Dr. Leitzell.

Additional Locals.

—Fruit trees that bloom a second time this year will bear no fruit next year.

—John Harnish of Wingate, Centre county has been appointed postmaster at that place.

—Thousands of barrels of apples are being shipped from different counties to western states.

—No man can appreciate a joke right after he has stuck his mucilage brush in the ink bottle.

—The government supervising architect has asked for $62,500 for Altoona's new public building.

—Andrew Whitehill, of Lemont, has picked 800 bushels of winter apples from his orchard this fall.

—The newspaper critic is generally the man who couldn't furnish a half column of original matter on a dog fight.

—Karthaus is having a small epidemic of diphtheria, thirteen cases being reported, some of which are very severe.

—Linn street has a society young lady who takes a nap on the sofa every Sunday afternoon and is always found with one arm curled around the biggest pillow.

—Twenty thousand pension claims growing out of the Spanish war have been presented to the Pension Bureau already. Of this number 500 have been granted.

—Bert Warner, of DuBois, aged 21, employed at Shamut mines, was accidentally thrown from a mine car on Tuesday and instantly killed. His neck was broken.

—Charles Atherton ranked 156th among the 210 base ball players in the National base ball league as a batsman. He played 63 games, stole 5 bases and had a batting average of 240.

—Wilson H. Boehm, of South Bethlehem, is suing his father-in-law to recover possession of his young wife, who has been locked in the house ever since she returned to her father's house after a runaway wedding.

—A polite tramp exhibited some wit at the back door of a Bishop street house the other morning when handed a piece of ham, by remarking "That no apology was necessary as cold ham was much more acceptable than cold shoulder."

—In ten years American life insurance companies have doubled their assets, the amount rising from $657,128,642 in 1888 to $1,344,901,198 in 1898. The increase has been decidedly the greatest since prosperity returned to the country.

—The first head of the Vanderbilt family died at the age of eighty-three, the second at the age of sixty-five, and the third at the age of fifty-four. The care of millions seems to be less conducive to ongevity than does the making of them.

—Since 1853 the United States Government has expended in the distribution of seeds and in the promulgation of statistics concerning them $3,476 802. The cost of seeds and of statistics on the seed question involves an expenditure of $150,000 a year.

—The remains of Samuel L. Nichols, which have reposed for the past twenty-six years in the Union cemetery at this place, were removed Saturday and taken to Altoona for re-interment. All of the family now reside there and it was thought desirable to remove their dead to that place.

—Admiral Dewey, who is a member of St. John's Episcopal church, in Washington, handed around the collection plate last Sunday. He has had a seat in the church for years and will probably be elected a vestryman to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Henry Pelew.

—The estate of David Noyes Westcott, the author of "David Harum," would be in debt were it not for the royalties on Mr. Westcott's posthumous book. As it is, his three children will be provided for, comfortably. Up to July 3 last $11,198,20 was received by the estate from Appletons," the publishers of "David Harum.' and the book is still selling well. The dramatization, too, may net something.

—A French statistician records that Switzerland annually produces more books than any other country in proportion to the number of inhabitants—one Swiss in every 3,000 being an author. Germany comes next, with one for every 3,200; Italy with one for every 3,300; France with one for every 3,200; England one for every 6,500, and the United States with one for every 12,400.

Shower of Stars Coming.

On the night of the 14th of next month there will pour from the heavens the most remarkable and spectacular stream of shooting stars ever predicted by astronomers. In Washington the scientists of the United States naval observatory are making elaborate preparations for observing the coming appearance of Leonids, while throughout the colleges, universities and astronomical observatories of the United States and of the world thousands of men trained to a knowledge of the stars are awaiting with eager interests the celestial phenomena.

It is the duty of every Republican to work for the entire ticket.

Out in Kansas

lives a happy wife. She writes: "I have used Mother's Friend before two confinements. The last time I had twins, and was in labor only a few minutes. Suffered very little." The reason why does expectant mothers so much good is because it is an external liniment, to be applied upon the outside, where much of the strain comes. It helps because the pores of the skin readily absorb it, and it comes into direct contact with and is absorbed by the parts involved. Morning sickness is quickly banished, and nervousness is kept completely away. The sense of dread and foreboding is not experienced, even during labor itself. Confinement is short and almost without pain. Recovery is quick and sure. Best of all, Mother's Friend benefits the unborn just as much as the expectant mother, and when the little one comes it will be strong, lusty and healthy.

A Judge Fines an Assessor.

Assessors will be interested in the following:

A fine of $200 and costs were imposed Wednesday by Judge Finletter on John Brady, former assessor of the Eighth division of the Fourth ward, Philadelphia, and who pleaded guilty to neglecting to properly perform his duties as an assessor. The judge took occasion to remark that he was satisfied Brady did not intentionally mean fraud. "But it is very important," he added, "that an assessor should be accurate and take all possible pains to know exactly what he is doing." Mr. Brady claimed that the division was thickly populated with foreigners, and that when an assessor made his canvass names were given him that should not have been. Thus came his error.

Lime Company Chartered.

The Bellefonte lime company was chartered at the state department last week with a capital stock of $25.000. The directors are J. P. Harris, Frank Warfield, J. P. Harris, Jr., J. W. Gephart, L. T. Munson, all of Bellefonte, and C. L. Clement, of Sunbury. The company operates the quarries at Salona.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

John Ganzell, a stone mason, and W. Lavell, a photographer, were arrested Monday night for making counterfeit money. Their hut was in the woods near Muncy Valley. A large quantity of spurious dollars and smaller coins were found. Ganzell was taken to jail at Laporte and the other man was discharged.

The Republican party has a platform on which to stand, and all the candidates are on that platform with both feet all the time.

Memories of Africa.

Queen Victoria has bitter memories connected with Africa. Not only has she lost many gallant officers and men of her army and navy in the numerous wars, little and big, which have been waged during the present reign in various parts of the dark continent, but she has also had to mourn the death of a devoted son-in-law, in the person of Prince Henry, of Battenberg.

Almost as terrible to the sovereign was the death of the young prince imperial. In her published journal her majesty has placed on record how incredible the news seemed to her at first. The fact that Napoleon III's only son died fighting for the British flag naturally added a special poignancy to the queen's grief.

But there is hardly any considerable portion of Africa, from the Mediterranean to the Cape of Good Hope, which is not full of memories, both sad and joyous, to Victoria. It was in Egypt that the Duke of Connaught received his baptism of fire, and it is well known that the queen cherishes a special devotion to the memory of General Gordon, whose Bible is among her most precious possessions in the private gallery at Windsor. This volume, which is a plain, leather-bound copy of the Holy Scriptures, such as a man who had constantly to travel would naturally possess, is placed in a crystal cabinet, the magnificence of which is in curious contrast with the simplicity of the relic.

All For a Stinky Three Cents.

An idea of the completeness of detail to which business is carried out by large corporations can be had by a recent transaction to which the N. Y. C. and Bellefonte Central railroads were parties. While the transaction, itself, was a losing one for both companies, yet it had to be gone through with under the ordinary business routine.

The Bellefonte Central Co. owed the N. Y. Central a balance of .03 on their September business and in sending a statement of it the former company was required to spend 2cts for postage; then the N. Y. C. returned the statement, approved, and asking that the balance of .03 be mailed at once, this letter requiring a 2c postage stamp. The B. C. R. R. mailed the balance of .03, thus spending 2cts more for postage and the N. Y. C. acknowledged the receipt of it, running the expenditures for postage, without the station eryor trouble, up to 8cts to collect a bill of .03, about which there was dispute.

From Waste Stones.

It may not be generally known that the by-products of fruit stones are of considerable value. The pits of peaches, apricots, nectarines, plums and prunes, which have heretofore been thrown away or used for fuel, have a market value.

This is specially true of the peach and apricot pits. There is now a strong demand for them at $8 to $10 a ton, delivered in San Francisco. The kernel is of course what is sought. From the kernel of the apricot Turkish "nut candy" is made which has almost displaced the almond. The same substance is used for the adulteration of cinnamon, allspice and nutmeg.

Announcement.

Price including the spraying tube is 75 cts. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medicinal properties of the solid Preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural aud healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., N. Y.

A Sunken Fortune,

Every year many thousands of feet timber and logs are lost by sinking to the bottom of the river in the pool of the dam The timber becomes water soaked and goes to the bottom where it remains and is eventually covered by the sand that drifts in with the summer floods. Men are now at work recovering some of this lost timber. An open frame work of light timber is constructed on which they float about looking for a sunken stick. When one is located it is bro't to the surface of the water with pike poles and fastened to the timber float and taken ashore. At the present prices of timber there is a fortune lying at the bottom of the pool of the Lock Haven dam.—Lock Haven Exp.

A Creamery for Baileyville.

Francis Rhoads, of Bellefonte, will erect a creamery at Baileyville with a capacity of about 800 pounds of butter per day. The ground has been staked off, and the excavating for the foundation has begun. The building will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible and when in operation will be overseen by Ira D. Slagle. The farmers in that vicinity have already promised sufficient support to enable the creamery, when completed, to turn out 500 pounds of butter daily.

A Short Honeymoon.

Says the DuBois Express: When Chas. Arndt, an employe of the Ridgway Dynamo and Engine company, went to his home a few evenings ago he found the place deserted and a note reading thusly upon the table:

Darling Husband:—Charles, will you forgive me? You will never see me more. So goodbye forever, with a kiss. This is from your darling wife. Marie.

The "darling husband" quickly made up his mind to ascertain what had become of his affectionate duck. He did some private detective work and found that the fickle Marie had gone to Bradford in company with a well known railroader, as well as $500 of her husband's hard earned cash.

Arndt secured a portion of the money from her and then did the proper thing—signed a bill of separation and returned home. The woman, who was formerly Miss Marie Moringer, an attache at the New Hyde hotel, is now domiciled at a house on Main street, in Bradford, made prominent recently by the attempted suicide of one of its girl inmates.

A hearty appetite doesn't always indicate a healthy condition. It is not the quantity of food which is eaten but the quantity which is assimilated, which determines the actual value of the food consumed. If the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition cannot convert the food into nourishment, and into blood, then the food is an injury instead of a benefit. For all disorders of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition, there is a certain remedy in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It removes clogging obstructions. It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, enriches the blood and builds up the body. It is a flesh-forming, muscle making preparation, making firm flesh instead of flabby fat. "Golden Medical Discovery" contains no alcohol, whiskey or intoxicant of any kind, and is equally free from opium, cocaine and all narcotics.

Don't Keep Money at Home.

The following, clipped from the Milton Standard, is full of wisdom and good, sound sense: "Within the past week three robberies have been committed in this county, and the perpetrators in each case secured snug sums of money, $300 or over, that was kept secreted in the house. This ought to be a warning to others who have savings laid by to put them in a bank or some other safe repository. This community is particularly blessed, for there are no safer, more conservatively managed banks anywhere than those of Milton, Lewisburg and Sunbury."

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land who are not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs are surely cured by it. Call on F. Potts Green, druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded,

Ex-Sheriff D. Z. Kline, is reported to be improving in health and his family are much encouraged. Miss May Taylor one of the teachers in the stone building and only daughter of W. H. Taylor has been seriously ill for several weeks with peritonitis. Mrs. Robert Kline of East Bishop street is in Philadelphia for hospital treatment, Mr. John Walsh who has been very ill with stomach trouble is now fully recovered and able to be about. Mrs. C. L. Gates is ill at her home on East Lamb street with erysipelas.

School Girl Attempts Suicide.

Martha Benninghoff, aged 16 years, a daughter of Dr. Benninghoff, of Cherry Tree, made an attempt to take her life by drinking carbolic acid Monday night. The girl went to her room and took the poison. She was discovered in the act by a member of her family, and only prompt medical assistance rendered by her father saved her life. Miss Benninghoff was in love with Miller McClelland, a young man who was killed in a railway accident at Rouseville last week, and it is thought that constant brooding over his death led her to commit the rash act. On her desk at school a note was found in which she declared her intention of taking her life.

Almost Asphyxiated.

Miss Mabel Boal, daughter of Postmaster George Boal of Centre Hall, had a narrow escape from death while visiting her uncle at Middletown a week or two ago. The room where she slept was heated by a stove and some time during the night the stove pipe became loose and the room became full of gas. Miss Boal was almost asphyxiated. The smell of gas aroused the rest of the house who came to Miss Boals assistance just in time to save her life. The young lady was unconscious for quite a while.

Died of Consumption.

Miss Annie Shauver, aged 19 died at the home of John Raymond on the Curtin farm near Bellefonte Tuesday, of consumption. She was the daughter of Isaac Shauver of Black Hawk. The funeral took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock from her late home. The services were conducted by Rev. Allen Rhen, of the United Brethren church of Bellefonte. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Brave Men Fall.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and good appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at F. Potts Greene Drug Store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Burned to Death.

A frightful burning accident took place Tuesday Oct. 24 three miles east of Reberburg. Mrs. Adam Wolf, a young married woman, was carrying a coal oil lamp through the house when it exploded. The oil was thrown all over her and in a moment she was wrapped in flames.

Mrs. Wolf crazed with pain, ran out of the house screaming for assistance. Before aid arrived she was burned so badly that she died shortly after.

Contributions From Bellefonte.

The mite boxes for the Lock Haven hospital which had been placed in a number of places in Bellefonte, were opened recently and found to contain a nice sum of money for the institution. The hospital authorities feel grateful to the people of Bellefonte for their generous contributions as the money is badly needed.—Lock Haven Express.

Traveling on the Editor's Pass

Jack Rogers was a newspaper reporter, and broke. He had hung around the Dubuque newspaper offices for a job until he had been requested to move on. So he decided to move on to Des Moines. But how to get there was the question, says the Chicago Inter Ocean Jack put on his thinking cap, and the result was that two hours later he found himself on a train and the conductor standing by his seat.

"Tickets," Said the conductor.

"See here, conductor," said Jack, easily, "my nam's Rogers' and I'm a reporter on the Des Moines Air Blast. I'm broke, and I'm in a hurry to get back home with a scoop. You let me ride, and the office will fix it up with you. See?"

Well," said the conductor, I guess that'll do all right. The road feels friendly toward the Air Blast. In fact, the editor is in the back coach. Come along, and I'll introduce you. If he says you're all right, it goes."

Jack was knocked all in a heap at the turn things had taken, but he had nothing to do but to follow the conductor. They halted in front of a man in the back coach, and the conductor said:—

"Mr. Smitem, this is Mr. Rogers. He says he's a reporter on your paper, and wants the office to pay for his transportation when he gets to Des Moines."

"How do you do, Mr. Rogers?' said the editor, pleasantly, extending his hand. "Glad to see you; sit down here with me." The conductor didn't wait for any more, but went off.

"Well this is nice of you," said Jack too astonished and embarrassed to talk straight. Of course I'm not on your paper, but I'm broke, and yarned to the conductor, hoping to get a job, and square it up later."

"Oh, that's all right, my boy," said the other. "Neither am I on the paper. I'm only riding on the editors pass."

NEW TREATY WITH SPAIN.

The Recent War Swept the Old Treaty Out of Existence.

Washington, Oct. 30.—An understanding has been reached by which it is expected that negotiations will be opened soon at Madrid for a new treaty between the United States and Spain. This will be the last step towards completely restoring the friendly relations between the two countries. The war with Spain swept the old treaty out of existence, and the only international agreement now in existence is the peace treaty, which is confined to the events growing out of the war, and has no reference to commerce, navigation, extradition and other manifold relations between nations in times of peace. The coming negotiations will be for the purpose of forming such a treaty of commerce, amity and friendship.

The present condition is quite anomolous, as there is no basis on which persons could be extradited from one country to the other, or for the determination of any commercial difference which might arise. Fortunately there has been no case occasioning serious differences. Both sides expect that the new treaty will be a great improvement on the old one, which was an antiquated document, dating back to 1795.

CLOSING ON LADYSMITH.

The Boers Prepared For an Attack on the British Forces.

THE BOERS INDULGE IN LOOTING.

Villages and Farms Raided by the Soldiers of the Transvaal—The Boer Casualties at Talani Hill Estimated at Five Hundred.

London, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from Ladysmith says: The Boers are gradually closing around Ladysmith. They have mounted two big guns on Tinta Ingoni, 4,500 yards from the British camp. An attack is expected. It is expected that the Boers will adopt tactics similar to those pursued at Dundee—demonstrating in one direction while attacking in another. The British intelligence department is completely informed regarding the Boer plans. The guns planted by the enemy are said to be those used in shelling Dundee.

Roughly estimated the Boers have 17,000 men, as against 12,000 British, for the battle of Ladysmith. General Sir George Stewart White has the better artillery, but his is of lesser range. The delay in the Boer attack is reported to be due to the non-arrival of Commandant General Joubert's column. This has given the British a much needed respite after their recent exertions. Everything, it is now considered, hinges upon General White's resource and judgment. Nothing is known regarding the progress of defensive works for the protection of Ladysmith.

The natives say that the Boer losses in the fighting at Reitfontein last Tuesday were at least 80 in killed and 150 in wounded. The same correspondent says that small Boer raiding parties continue their depredations among the villages and several farms have been looted. The rains continue and the volunteer camp is almost flooded.

A Pietermaritzburg dispatch says: It is officially announced that the British troops who left Ladysmith on Friday to meet the enemy returned Saturday after a slight brush, the Boers retiring on Elandslaagte. Disquieting rumors are current regarding the Umvoti country, but the official reports say that all is quiet there.

The following official data are made public regarding the fighting near Dundee:

The Boer losses during Friday's engagement at Talani Hill are estimated at 500 in killed and wounded.

Saturday the divisional staff was reconstituted. The country was clear of the enemy eastward, but as big forces were reported closing in on Dundee from the north and west it was considered advisable to move the British force across the railway to a new position south of the camp. During the afternoon the infantry moved out and began entrenching a new position. All available transport was utilized to carry stores.

At 4 o'clock in the afternoon the enemy opened fire on the entrenchments and the camp from the shoulder of Impati mountain with two six inch guns, getting a fairly accurate aim over a range of 7,000 yards. The soft ground rendered the percussion fuses useless. In spite of the falling shells the wagons were loaded with stores. Lieutenant Hannah and an artillery sergeant were killed.

During the night of Oct. 22 a fresh position was occupied about 7,300 yards from the enemy's guns. News was received at 8 o'clock Monday morning of the victory at Elandslaagte and a division was moved toward Glencoe Junction for the purpose of cutting off the retreating enemy, should they use Glencoe Pass. Two fugitives were captured.

A dispatch from Mafeking, dated Oct. 24, says: The Boers are in possession of the water works and have cut off the supply. This occasions no anxiety, because ample supplies are available in tanks and wells.

During a sortie this evening the British encountered the enemy three miles off to the north. The Boers had apparently been warned and returned our fire in earnest with a well handled machine gun. As our men had no intention of pressing an attack they retired immediately. Commander Sydney Webb was severely wounded and left behind during the retreat, but was afterwards rescued.

There is no fresh news from the western frontier. The mines are still working at Kimberley, where there are provisions enough to last nine months. Cecil Rhodes has mounted and fully equipped a town guard of 400 men, at a cost of £15,000.

The Durban correspondent of The Daily Mail says: It is reported on the authority of the British residents in Pondoland that the Pondos are in constant communication with the Boers, whom they are anxious to help.

The special correspondent of The Daily Mail at Ladysmith, telegraphing Sunday, describes the arrival of the war balloon there on Saturday. It was welcomed, he said, with wild dances by the kaffirs, who regard it as a deity. General White and General Sir Archibald Hunter both ascended on Sunday and reconnoitered the enemy's position.

Predicts a Decisive Battle.

Paris, Oct. 30.—The Echo De Paris publishes an interview with Dr. Leyds, special representative of the South African republic in Europe, who expresses the belief that the decisive battle of the war would occur at Ladysmith. He said that, although sympathizing with the Boers, Europe would not intervene if they were then defeated—at least not for the present. There was no question he asserted, of mediation by Germany.

Rain Extinguishes Mountain Fires.

Loch Haven, Pa., Oct. 30.—Rain Saturday night extinguished the mountain fires which have been burning furiously for over a week. Much of the land burned over contained scrub timber. The only valuable timber destroyed in this county was on a tract of 1,200 acres near Loganton, entailing a heavy loss.

The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over ¼ as much. Children may drink it with great benefit, 15cts. and 25cts. per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O,

John Hare once sent his coachman to a certain theatre to secure stalls, and the man, who knew more about stables than theatres, returned with what appeared to be a difficult verbal message. "Well, did you get the stalls?" inquired the actor. "No, sir" said the coachman; "the stalls were all taken up, but they told me they would be pleased to—to"—he scratched his head and then blurted out—"to put you in a loose box, sir!"

NEARLY FIFTY-EIGHT YEARS OLD.

It's a long life, but devotion to the true interests and prosperity of the American People has won for it new friends as the years rolled by and the original members of its family passed to their reward, and these admirers are loyal and steadfast today, with faith in its teachings, and confidence in the information which it brings to their homes and firesides.

As a natural consequence it enjoys in its old age all the vitality and vigor of its youth, strengthened and ripened by the experiences of over half a century. It has lived on its merits, and on the cordial support of progressive Americans

It is "The New York Weekly Tribune," acknowledged the country over as the leading National family newspaper.

Recognizing its value to those who desire all the news of the State and Nation, the publisher of the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN (your own favorite home paper) has entered into an alliance with "The New York Weekly Tribune" which enables him to furnish both papers at the trifling cost of $1.25 per year.

Every farmer and every villager owes to himself to his family and to the community in which he lives a cordial support of his local newspaper, as it works constantly and untiringly for his interests in every way, brings to his home all the news and happenings of his neighborhood, the doings of his friends, the condition and prospects for different crops, the prices in home markets, and, in fact, is a weekly visitor which should be found in every wide awake, progressive family.

Just think of it! Both of these papers for only $1.25 a year.

VOTE FOR PROSPERITY.

The Republicans of Pennsylvania have an important duty to perform toward themselves, their State and the Nation at the coming election. The obligation rests upon them to render such a verdict with their ballots as will give effective aid toward the continuance of the great prosperity which the country, thanks to wise Republican administration of its affairs, has for several years enjoyed. When the last national Democratic administration brought ruin upon the business of the country and distress upon its citizens the people of Pennsylvania were among the chief sufferers, and when the return to power of the Republican party brought about the greatest prosperity the Nation has ever known the citizens of the Keystone State were quickly numbered among the chief beneficiaries of the change. The people of the Nation will therefore naturally look to the voters of Pennsylvania to help erect with their votes an effective bulwark against the return to power in the general government of the party whose ascendency therein has ever been followed by national business disaster.

It may be thought by some that this year's election is of little importance, and that they may well ignore it upon the plea of being too busy. But in this they will err greatly. A Democratic victory in Pennsylvania this year would vastly encourage the advocates of free trade and free silver everywhere and inspire them to greater, and mayhap successful, efforts next year in the Nation. The men who do not vote this year to sustain the prosperity with which they are now favored because they are too busy perhaps a couple of years hence, with a Democratic national administration enthroned through their negligence and themselves with time hanging on their hands for lack of business or occupation, may bitterly rue their folly.

If the Republicans of Pennsylvania are wise, therefore, they will allow nothing to stand in the way of their casting their ballots next Tuesday in favor of the continuance of the propitious business conditions with which they, in common with the rest of their countrymen, are now blessed.

—John K. Thompson for Treasurer is your man and he is all right.

THE ELECTION RETURNS.

On next Tuesday, as everyone knows, there will be a most important election held and the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN has made special preparations to publish at the earliest possible moment a most complete account of the result in the county, state and country. A full page of telegraphic news from every state and territory in the Union will be published together with the full returns from old Centre. Be sure and secure the BELLEFONTE REPUBLICAN and get the latest and most reliable news hot from the wire. The price is only 5 cents per copy, or $1.00 per year.

THE Democratic Watchman would like to believe and have others believe that the Republican County ticket is a Hastings ticket. Unfortunately for its cause the contention cannot be substantiated by facts. Every Republican voter in the county knows, if he knows anything, that the Republican County ticket is no more a Hastings-made ticket than it is an Anti-Hastings made ticket. This oat has been threshed before and often, hence it is unnecessary to thresh it again. Our ticket is a thoroughly representative Republican ticket, unidentified with any faction, free from any factional dictatorship, a ticket that stands for the party as a whole and not for any faction or part thereof. Vote for the ticket. It is the best in the field and is deserving of your support and assistance.

—Do not forget to vote and when you vote vote the straight Republican ticket.

CAMPAIGN REVIEWED.

Democracy Has Not Spared the Rod of Censure and Scandal—Republican Candidates the Victim of Democratic Greed for Spoils.

The cruel political war is almost at an end, it has nearly finished its course. The conflict in Centre County, so far as the editors are concerned, terminates with this week's issue of their respective organs. The real test of political strength will take place next Tuesday when the battle of ballots will occur and the voters will conclude the struggle. The campaign has been singularly quiet and undemonstrative. It has been practically impossible to gage public sentiment, therefore the outcome is shrouded in mystery and doubt. The veil will be lifted next Tuesday night and then we will "know where we are at." All anti-election predictions on the result in Centre County are unreliable and are made without the slightest knowledge of the true situation. The one distinctive feature of the contest for political supremacy in the county has been the bitter and persistent Democratic abuse of the Republican candidates Fisher, Riddle and Herman. This has been the only reprehensible action in the campaign. The offices for which these men are candidates are the most important in the county, from a "patronage" point of view at least, and it is not surprising, therefore, that the Democratic press resorted to every means, good, bad and indifferent, in their effort to bring about the defeat of the Republican candidates and accomplish the election of the Democratic aspirants. The attacks made upon Fisher, Riddle and Herman by the Democratic papers have been dishonorable, disgraceful and unworthy of respectable journalism. There existed no justification or reason for their shameful tirade against these men. The official deportment and record of Messrs. Fisher and Riddle courts a thorough impartial and unbiased investigation. Their service on the Board of Commissioners has been in the interest of the people and in the interest of the county and every fair minded and intelligent citizen of the county will admit this to be so. Of course, the man who permits political prejudice to govern and influence his judgment will confess to no good in a Republican official. It is not with this class we have to deal, hence we are not giving our views for their consideration. If the Democratic press hoped to achieve the success of the Democratic ticket by abusing and misrepresenting the Republican candidates they will realize, when the ballots are counted on Tuesday night and the result made known, that the day of mud-slinging and disreputable politics in Centre County is past. Why, Mr. Herman's pastor, Rev. W. W. Rhoads of the Evangelical church at Lemont, is not exempt from the slurs and reflections of the "pie hungry" Democratic editor! Mr. Rhoads manfully and courageously came to the front with a complete and emphatic refutation of the false and slanderous charges made against his personal friend and a member of his congregation. For this act of friendship, this desire to speak in defense of a man whom he knew to be wrongfully accused and grossly misrepresented Mr. Rhoads has been made the object of offensive, unbecoming Democratic criticism. Mr. Rhoads spoke in the interest of a Republican candidate, therefore "he had no business to mix himself up in a political contest" and in doing so he "brought discredit upon himself as a minister of the Gospel." Had his kindly attentions been in the interest of a Democratic candidate the Democratic journalist would have played a different tune on his organ. It all depends, you know, on whose bull is gored. It is safe to predict that the conservative voters of the county, those who discountenance and condemn the method of campaigning engaged in by the Democratic papers, will express their disapproval and displeasure at the polls next Tuesday. It is a very easy matter to tarnish a man's reputation and stain his character. A breath of suspicion against a man sent broadcast through the columns of a newspaper, or circulated through the medium of backbiters and scandal-mongers, is sure to work harm and injury to some extent at least, to the man whose name is involved. It is a reproach, a distrust that will cling to him and perhaps operate against him and to his disadvantage even after he has retired from public office, if he be a public official, or has abandoned the quest for political favor to gain a livelihood in another direction. What right have the Democratic editors to hold Messrs. Fisher and Riddle up to public scorn and contempt? What right have they to question their integrity and impeach their honor? What right have they to accuse them of gross mismanagement and wrongdoing in public office? What right have they to arraign them on the charge of prodigal administration and give to the public but one side of the question as evidence of the correctness of their accusations? What right have they to create a suspicion in the public mind against these men that may in after years confront them with damaging consequences? The attacks of the Democratic press against these honest, faithful and capable officials are without justification or defense. Will the voters of Centre County, by their ballots next Tuesday, place the seal of their approval upon such a culpable and censurable political persecution? We hope not.

Messrs. Fisher and Riddle are as honest, as reliable, as trustworthy and as reputable as are their Democratic opponents. We have naught to say against Messrs. Heckman and Meyer except that in our judgment they do not have it in them to make the competent and efficient public servants that Fisher and Riddle have been.

How considerate our Democratic friends have been of Mr. Herman, the Republican candidate for Sheriff. After doing their best (worst is perhaps the better word) to damn his character and destroy his good name they question the wisdom of permitting him to risk his future amid the dangers and pitfalls of public life. How charitable, how thoughtful, and how magnanimous they are, too; they are willing to sacrifice that "paragon of perfection," that exalted specimen of genus homo in whom the frailties of human nature do not abide, Mr. Brungart, their candidate for the shrievalty, to the same dangers and perils from which they would shield Mr. Herman. As a matter of fact Mr. Herman's strength of character and willpower is as firmly established and as strong and vigorous as Mr. Brungart's. He is as amply equipped, mentally and physically, as Mr. Brungart, and he would make as good and as reputable Sheriff as Mr. Brungart. Jake Herman's word is as good as his bond and his heart is in the right place and filled with warmth and human kindness.

Show your confidence in and respect for your candidates, Fisher, Riddle and Herman, and the others as well, by your votes next week. Let your ballots be evidence that the Democratic charges against these men are without foundation to stand on and can find no lodging place in your mind. Vote the Republican ticket straight from top to bottom. Urge your sons, your neighbor and your neighbor's sons to do the same. It is Republicanism and good times against Democracy and hard times. You surely should know which you prefer. Vote for your party's candidates, work for your party's candidates and you will share in the victory that will crown your efforts.

—Vote for Jacob S. Herman for Sheriff he secured his nomination honestly and is worthy of your confidence and trust.

THERE is a rumor going the rounds that the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, Cyrus Brungart, has promised the appointment of Deputy Sheriff to John Hoy, Jr., of Walker township. We wonder how many Democrats there are in Centre County who have received the same promise from Mr. Brungart. The Republicans will likely relieve him of the embarrassment of his position by giving to Honest Jake Herman the privilege and authority of appointing a Deputy Sheriff.

—A vote for James B. Strohm for Register is a vote in favor of good capable men for Public office. Vote for Strohm.

Be Sure You are Right Before You Vote.

IF you know that Commissioners Fisher and Riddle have been wasteful and extravagant with the finances of the county, unmindful and heedless of the interests of the taxpayers, and have by their public record proven themselves to be not only incompetent but unworthy of continued confidence and trust, it is your plain duty to vote against their re-election. If, on the other hand, you have reason to believe that these commissioners have served you well, have fostered and advanced your interests and faithfully and honestly conducted the affairs of the county, it is your duty to give them your support by your ballot. You should not accept the Democratic press view of the matter. The Democratic editor is too vitally interested, for personal gain, in the election of the Democratic candidates for commissioners, and all others as well, to be fair and just in their opposition to Fisher and Riddle, or any of the Republican candidates. If you know nothing of the merits of the candidates from your own personal knowledge you should seek your information from some reliable source. It is manifestly unfair and unjust to allow yourself to be influenced by partisan and prejudiced comment. You owe it to yourself, to Fisher and Riddle and to the party to which you and they belong to resent the uncalled-for and unwarranted Democratic attack upon these gentlemen. Express your contempt for such flagrant disregard for truth and justice as exemplified in the Democratic warfare against them. Messrs. Fisher and Riddle are as honest as the day is long. They have been trusty and conscientious officials, their record will endure, without the discovery of a single illegitimate or unlawful act, the searchlight of an impartial and unprejudiced investigation. They are indeed the peers of their Democratic opponents and they stand as high in public esteem and regard as those who assail their character and seek their defeat. They are Republican candidates and as such should have the undivided support and endorsement of every Republican in Centre County who has the interests of his party at heart and who desires and hopes for its success at the polls on next Tuesday. Vote for Fisher and Riddle.

THE "REPUBLICAN" IN THE CAMPAIGN.

THE REPUBLICAN concludes, with this issue, its service in the political campaign which terminates with the election on next Tuesday. We have endeavored to further the cause of the Republican party, regardless of faction or clique, and assist the campaign of its candidates to our full extent and capacity, and at the same time maintain a strict observance of the proprieties of a political contest as recognized from our standpoint of conception. We feel that we can say, and with no little pride and gratification, that the finger of criticism and censure cannot point to a single paragraph or sentence in any issue of the REPUBLICAN during the entire campaign that contained an attack, openly or covertly, upon the personal character or private life of any one of the Democratic candidates, and at no time did the REPUBLICAN, by hint or insinuation, compromise their reputation or honor. We do not indorse, therefore we did not engage in a campaign of abuse, vituperation and scandal. We may have disputed, perhaps, the ability and qualification of the Democratic candidates, individually or collectively, but not once did we question their honor or their integrity, or strive to make political capital of their habits of life. Upon the assumption that all men are children of sin and perfect character, therefore, is not to be found upon this mundane sphere, we did not expect to find exceptions to the general rule running on the Democratic ticket. We cheerfully concur in the opinion of the county democracy that their candidates, one and all, are men of sterling worth, honest, upright and honorable, but we venture the assertion that the Democratic ticket, as a whole, would not receive the approbation and indorsement of a Prohibition convention.

We hope that the REPUBLICAN merits the congratulations of the best element of both political parties upon the manly and dignified course it pursued throughout the campaign. We have the same hankering for county printing as have our Democratic contemporaries, and perhaps to a greater degree, but we tried not to allow our desire for "spoils" to close our eyes to any shortcomings, real or imaginary, of our own candidates and descant upon and magnify those of their opponents. We have our own notion of clean and creditable politics and though our method may result in little service to our ticket we steadfastly adhered to a course which we believed to have been right and proper. If we have erred in our understanding of what is essential in political contests we throw ourselves upon your generosity and indulgence and ask you to attribute our error to our brief acquaintance with, and therefore limited experience in, journalistic politics.

WHAT A DEMOCRAT SAID.

"I don't believe in abusing Tom Fisher and Matt. Riddle; they have made good commissioners, as good and competent as any the county has ever had. I have always found them courteous and obliging and I am sure they tried to be fair and just to all people in the county. They do not deserve the attacks made upon them by the Democratic papers and I believe these papers are making them votes rather than taking them from them as is their desire. The Republicans in the county do not like to have their officials charged with corruption and dishonesty and they are sure to resent these attacks upon Fisher and Riddle. There are Democrats, too, who do not look with favor upon such a campaign. It is poor politics and we all have seen in the past how unfruitful has been its practice. Yes, sir, I firmly believe that Fisher and Riddle, and Herman, too, have been strengthened by Democratic abuse, and I believe that the vote next Tuesday will show that my observations are correct."

The above is the utterance of a prominent Democrat of Bellefonte while discussing the political situation in Centre County. The sentiment expressed by this gentleman—who is widely known for his political astuteness and foresight—is sure to find an echo in many a voter's heart in Centre County. Defamation of character and false accusations against political candidates is a style of campaigning that does not find indorsement in the public mind. If you have faith in the honesty, uprightness and fidelity of Thomas W. Fisher, Matthew F. Riddle and Jacob S. Herman it is your duty, as man to man, to repudiate the charges of the Democracy against them and join in a vote of confidence and trust next Tuesday.

Democrats of Centre County There is Treachery in Your Ranks.

Report has it that the Democratic "spoilsmen" of Centre County are preparing to sacrifice the Democratic State ticket and the Democratic candidates for Recorder, Register, Auditors and Coroner on the County ticket for the benefit of the Democratic candidates for Sheriff and County Commissioners. This rumor can readily be accepted as true. The character of the Democratic opposition to the Republican candidates Herman, Fisher and Riddle has been so intense, so bitter, so aggressive, that it warrants the belief that the Democratic "spoilsmen" will stop at nothing to accomplish their dearest wish, the election of a Democratic Sheriff and a Democratic Board of Commissioners, officials who have spoils to dispense. What will not some men do for personal gain and profit! How does a betrayal of your State ticket and the major portion of your County ticket suit you, Democrats of Centre County? We again urge our Republican friends to stand firm and solid for the Republican State and County ticket. Turn a deaf ear to any Democratic offer to trade on the ticket. Do not listen to any proposition that will advance the cause of one candidate at the expense of others. A full Republican vote for each Republican candidate will elect the County ticket and give a Republican majority for the State ticket. Let this be our aim and object. Vote straight Republican.

How Did He Get Them?

Mr. Cyrus Brungart, the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, possesses information that would make interesting reading for the people of Centre County, particularly those residing in the lower end of Penns Valley. There are hundreds of Democrats, and Republicans too, who would like to hear how he succeeded in getting the delegates from Miles township to vote for his nomination in the Democratic county convention and against Ellis Shaffer, the Miles township candidate for this place on the ticket. Mr. Shaffer surely relied upon the support of the delegates from his own district. The fact that he did not receive it is proof positive that Mr. Brungart violated the terms of an agreement entered in upon by himself and Mr. Shaffer which provided that neither candidate was to encroach upon the territory of either's home district. Mr. Shaffer faithfully observed the conditions of the compact; did Mr. Brungart? Hardly, since the action of the Miles township delegation gave evidence of Mr. Brungart's political activity in Mr. Shaffer's bailiwick. This treachery on the part of Mr. Brungart certainly detracts from the high moral tone of character in which the Democratic press strive to clothe him. Come to the front, Mr. Brungart, and tell your fellow-citizens how you obtained your nomination. The disclosure will hardly be creditable to you since it will open the eyes of the public to the fact that you are human and not adverse to the practice of duplicity and double-dealing in political manipulation. Tell the people, Mr. Brungart, how you euchred Mr. Shaffer out of the Miles township delegates.

—The large barn of Budd Thompson located about a hundred yards from the depot at Martha Furnace, was destroyed by fire about midnight Saturday night. Along with the building went its contents consisting of the large crops of Mr. Thompson just gathered from the fields. Railroaders who passed on their trains state that it was a tremendous fire and burned with terrific speed.

The cause of the fire is unknown and the loss will be several thousand dollars.

CATARRH OF THE LIVER.

Every Organ of the Human Body Liable to Catarrh.

Mrs. Nettie Lind.

Mrs. Nettie Lind, graduated nurse of the Royal State School, Copenhagen, Denmark, writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman from Chicago. Mrs. Lind says: "I am very pleased to testify to the merits of Pe-ru-na. I have watched its results when prescribed to patients under my care, especially in the different catarrhal troubles, and must say the results were most satisfactory. I therefore have great faith in Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Nettie Lind."

Mrs. S. E. Robbins, White Wright, Texas, says: "I have been having colic at times and I get very yellow, and am confined to my bed a great deal of the time. Last spring I got so bad that I was in bed most of the time for several weeks. I had colic, sick stomach and nervous chills every six or seven days. Finally, when I heard of Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin I had eaten nothing for several days, and was under the doctor's treatment. I quit taking his medicine and began to take Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. I gained twenty-five pounds, and can now eat anything I want without inconvenience. My skin is perfectly clear—no sign of jaundice. Mrs. S. E. Robbins."

Mrs. C. T. Rogers, of Elgin, Ill., writes: "Your medicine saved my baby, who had jaundice and catarrh of the liver."

Catarrhal dyspepsia is due to derangements of the organs intimately connected with digestion, either the stomach, liver, pancreas or bowels. When the liver is the principal cause there is a pain and heaviness in the right side, great irregularity of the bowels, sick headache, palpitation of the heart, furred tongue, loss of appetite, bloating after meals, gloomy, despondent feelings, yellowness of the skin and belching up gas.

Bilious colic or gall stones are frequently the result of catarrh of the liver. It also produces a condition closely resembling chronic malaria. All these troubles are quickly cured by Pe-ru-na. A short course of Pe-ru-na will do more to set right the digestive organs than all other remedies known to man. Pe-ru-na is sure to produce a vigorous appetite and regular digestion. All bilious diseases disappear when Pe-ru-na is used. There are no substitutes for Pe-ru-na.

The Shirt Factory to Come to Bellefonte.

Mr. E. K. Rhoads, President of the Bellefonte Board of Trade Wednesday telegraphed to Mr. E. G. Witters of Lititz to bring his shirt factory to Bellefonte. The amount of $800.00 necessary to defray the expenses of removal and placing the machinery etc. etc. in condition for operation is assured. The factory will give employment to nearly one hundred hands and the monthly pay roll will perhaps reach $2000.00. This should be good news to the business men of Bellefonte who it is hoped will manifest a proper spirit of appreciation of the efforts of the Board of Trade by responding liberally to its financial solicitor.

A DEMOCRATIC BOOMERANG.

Dastardly Attack Upon Colonel Barnett Quickly Reacts.

SOLDIERS REFUTE CHARGES.

Officers and Men of the Fighting Tenth and Self Respecting Citizens Generally Denounce a Cowardly Campaign of Character Assassination.

(Special Correspondence.)

Harrisburg, Oct. 31.—One of the most unjustifiable and dastardly attacks ever made upon a public man has been sprung by the Democratic state committee against Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, the Republican nominee for state treasurer. The managers of the Democratic machine have had agents at work for weeks upon a scheme to question the soldierly conduct of the gallant officer who returned from the Philippines in command of the "Fighting Tenth" regiment, after the death of the brave Colonel Hawkins. Lieutenant Colonel Barnett, who was Colonel Hawkins' chief supporter in his regiment, and who was by him directed to take command of the regiment when he was stricken with illness, has in the closing days of an exciting political canvass been charged with cowardice on the field of battle. In their desperation to score a point in their losing fight the Democratic politicans have over reached themselves, and the attack upon Colonel Barnett has proven a boomerang for the Democracy. It will bring him thousands of votes he might not have otherwise gotten. Many Democrats have declared their supreme contempt for a leadership which would resort to such despicable means to gain a point in a political campaign.

Officers and men of the Tenth regiment have quickly refuted the slanderous statements circulated about their commander. Their declarations have been published in the Harrisburg Telegraph, Pittsburg Commercial Gazette and other papers.

Following are a number of interviews and extracts from signed statements from members of the Tenth regiment published in these papers:

SAW HIM UNDER FIRE.

Orderly Charles Pastor, of Harrisburg, who was with the Tenth regiment from the time it left Mt. Gretna until it returned from the Philippines, among other things says:

"I have seen these villainous and outrageous charges against Lieutenant Colonel Barnett. They are false in every respect. No man in the regiment had a better opportunity of observing Colonel Barnett than I, because I was Colonel Hawkins' orderly and saw the colonel and lieutenant colonel every day we were in service. These charges of cowardice against Lieutenant Colonel Barnett were sprung for political effect—to defeat him for state treasurer—but they are false, outrageously and maliciously false. It is a shame to attack the character of so good and true a soldier—a commander who, so far as I know, was beloved and trusted by every man under him."

"Did you ever see Colonel Barnett hiding behind embankments, trees, rocks or fences, or in any way show signs of cowardice while the regiment was in action or neglect his duty in any particular manner?" he was asked.

"No, never," replied Orderly Pastor very emphatically. "I was appointed orderly by Colonel Hawkins about two months after we arrived in the Philippines, and served as such until the regiment was mustered out of service. I was at Colonel Hawkins' headquarters all the time, and consequently saw both officers every day."

"Do you know whether there was any friction or ill feeling existing between Colonel Hawkins and Lieutenant Colonel Barnett?" asked the reporter.

"No, there was none," was the reply. "On the contrary," he continued, "the best of friendship and fellowship existed between Colonel Hawkins and Lieutenant Colonel Barnett. The two officers spent much of their time in each other's company and a bond of brotherly love existed that could not be severed. Why, when Colonel Hawkins died, Lieutenant Colonel Barnett was completely unnerved and he broke down and wept like a child.

"At the battle of Guiguinto bridge, at which place these lying reports say that Colonel Barnett showed the white feather by hiding behind a rice dyke, I carried dispatches from Colonel Hawkins to Lieutenant Colonel Barnett. I saw Colonel Barnett in the thickest of the fight. He was urging his men to greater activity and in his endeavor to steady his men he exposed himself to a perfect hail of Filipino bullets. During the engagements at De La Lome church, Marialo and Malolos I also carried dispatches from Colonel Hawkins to Lieutenant Colonel Barnett, and in each and every one of these battles I found Lieutenant Colonel Barnett with his battalion. In every engagement I saw him where the bullets flew the thickest, and he looked every inch the brave soldier he is.

"I can't understand why people should slander such a man as Colonel Barnett. A braver soldier never wore Uncle Sam's uniform, and a kinder and more tender hearted man never breathed the breath of life. Never once did he refuse to grant a reasonable request to the men under him, and he performed many little acts of kindness that only a soldier and gentleman is capable of. It pains me to think that members of the 'Fighting Tenth' would so far forget themselves as to slander their superior officer. I can't believe the reports are true. They are wilful, malicious and outrageous lies!"

ACCUSATIONS PREPOSTEROUS.

Private Frank Wall, of Company A, Tenth Pennsylvania volunteers, says:

"I am greatly surprised and mortified to see the slanderous midnight attacks—Aguinaldo style—upon the military record and character of Lieutenant Colonel Barnett. The accusations are preposterous and the time of their promulgation so clearly indicative of their baseness of purpose that I would deem them entirely unworthy of notice were it not for the fact that the fair name of our regiment is thus being held up to the public scorn of our country at large as the author of such silly and scandalous charges against one of the ablest and best officers of our army, whose patriotism and bravery was clearly established on the battle fields of Luzon, and whose honest and faithful service to our country as a volunteer soldier and officer renders him a worthy candidate for public office at the hands of his comrades and our citizens.

"Colonel Barnett's loyalty to his country, to his commander while living and to his memory after death shows him to be above the plane of character assassins and worthy of the highest respect and confidence of our good citizen without question, and I believe that such will be their verdict on the seventh day of next month at the polls."

BARNETT UNDER FIRE.

Sergeant William G. Vance, who served in the Tenth regiment, Company D, and is now at Camp Meade, preparing to return to the Philippines with another regiment, says:

"I will tell you what I saw and heard at the battle of De La Lome church concerning Lieutenant Colonel Barnett, to which I will make affidavit if necessary. The Tenth regiment had moved fully 100 yards toward the ridge upon which the church is situated. There was an incline of space about 200 yards between the position occupied by our regiment and the South Dakota boys. We were in the advance and our position was so exposed that we were subjected to a most raking fire from the Filipinos. It was so severe that Colonel Hawkins ordered us to lie down for protection, and we were held in this position for over half an hour. During the time we lay there we heard Lieutenant Colonel Barnett firing at the Filipinos. He had a peculiar rapid firing gun, the sound of which was exactly similar to that of a Mauser rifle, and could be easily distinguished from the others. Colonel Barnett kept up a steady and constant fire, and the boys made frequent comments upon his abilities as a sharpshooter. I was lying beside Captain Hawkins, son of our colonel, who turned over and remarked to me, 'Barnett is giving them hell.' At the battle of Guiguinto I saw Lieutenant Colonel Barnett during the whole of the engagement, and he was always where the Filipinos' bullets fell the thickest. He inspired the men by his courage, and his actions were such that showed the kind of stuff he is made of. He didn't flinch once, and on several occasions I saw him in advance of his men, leading them on to victory. No man that saw him in that battle could help but admire him for his bravery and his daring. In this battle and at Malolos he commanded the Second battalion. At Malolos, as at the battle of Guiguinto, he was under fire all day. Lieutenant Colonel Barnett gave his commands coolly, and the men under had every confidence in him."

WHAT OTHERS SAY.

First Lieutenant R. L. Tidball says: "I have known Colonel Barnett for a number of years and can say that all his actions in the Philippines were, so far as I knew and saw, just as soldierly and brave as any. I was with him on several occasions while he was in command of the province of Cavite, and I never had reason to think that he was anything but a brave man. I am a Democrat, and I do not know whether I will vote for Barnett or not, but I am opposed to villifying him for political effect, and brand the report of his cowardice as a falsehood."

Second Lieutenant J. A Ewing says: "I have known Colonel Barnett for ten years, and want to say that I was with him the day he was shot. I know by personal experience that Colonel Barnett did his whole duty, whether in barracks or in the presence of the enemy; that his service was noble and faithful, and this is the most loyal tribute that can be paid to any soldier."

Quartermaster Sergeant J. M. Gee says: "I have known Colonel Barnett since belonging to the regiment, six years, and from all I have seen of him he has always conducted himself as a soldier. He has done things that have not altogether pleased the majority, yet on a whole I think it was for the benefit of the regiment. I have the highest esteem for Colonel Barnett."

First Lieutenant G. L. Gordon says: "I have seen Colonel Barnett under fire at different times, and never saw anything in his actions indicating the least sign of cowardice."

Lieutenant Harhuis says: "I am not familiar in full with the charges preferred against Colonel Barnett, but, in so far as his conduct as a brave soldier is placed in the balance, knowing what I do, I am free to say that in my opinion there is nothing in his conduct as such that would reflect discredit upon him."

Corporal J. B. Edgar, of Company B, says: "Having read the charges of cowardice against Colonel Barnett, I take pleasure in denouncing them as false, if not malicious, as his bravery and courage were never doubted by any member of the regiment, so far as I have ever heard, nor did I ever see any indication of cowardice on his part."

Corporal C. W. Brown, of Company E, says: "If Colonel Barnett is a coward, so am I, and so is every man in the regiment, but the Filipinos will not care to face such cowards every day. He never flinched while under fire. I will face any man who charges him with cowardice and defy him to prove his statements."

Captains Crago and Watson, Captain Hunter, Lieutenant Aiken, Major Neff and many others have given similar testimony.

ANONYMOUS CHARGES.

These are but a few of the many testimonials for Colonel Barnett that have come from members of his regiment since this last hour political attack was sprung upon him. A careful reading of the publications inspired by the Democratic state committee and its allies will show that all of the important statements affecting Colonel Barnett are from "a member of the Tenth regiment," or "private of Company I," or "a corporal in one of the companies," or some other person whose name is not given. Here and there use is made of two or three names on unimportant matters, but wherever Colonel Barnett is unduly accused it is in some sort of an anonymous, cowardly way. No newspaper correspondent has dared to attach his name to one of these stories.

CHARACTER ASSASSINATION.

Under the caption "Character Assassins at Work" the Pittsburg Commercial Gazette, the leading stalwart Republican paper in western Pennsylvania, says:

"Character assassins are at work in Pennsylvania in a desperate eleventh hour effort to promote the fortunes of the Democratic party. The better element of that party, be it said to its credit, has shown a disposition to avoid mud slinging. But, unfortunately for the party, it has as adherents certain knaves and fools who cannot be restrained from campaign methods that are beneath the contempt of honest men. The fact that the leaders of the party are not attempting to check these thieves and liars—thieves that seek to rob an honest man and a gallant soldier of a well won reputation; liars who deal in cowardly inuendo, without the shadow of an excuse for their brazen falsehoods—shows that they are desperately hard up for campaign ammunition.

"The object of the cowardly assault is Lieutenant Colonel James E. Barnett, candidate for state treasurer. The attack upon him is not made by military men, but by the stay-at-homes, the copperheads, the sympathizers with rebellion. Not a word of testimony that is worthy of credence have they brought forward from military men as a basis of their charges. Not a flaw exists in Colonel Barnett's military record as known to his superiors. He served many years in the National Guard, and rose step by step in rank until he was second in command in his regiment. When the war broke out he volunteered with the rest and did his duty with them. He showed his patriotism, braved the perils of Luzon swamps and Philippine fevers, Spanish and rebel bullets, while the men who now scoff at his courage sulked at home and from the safe distance of 10,000 miles invented their theories of how a soldier should fight.

"Until Colonel Barnett became a candidate for office—yes, not even until months after that event—not a word was breathed, not a suspicion raised, that he was not among the bravest of the gallant Tenth, and not a voice was raised in the section of the state where he was born and reared reflecting either on his business ability or his social standing. In all the scores of letters sent home by the Tenth boys in Manila and widely published in both the city and rural press, not a hint was dropped of any dissatisfaction. He was a hero until he consented to run for office. Then anonymous cowards arose, and in anonymous letters to the newspapers began to tell what anonymous members of the regiment had to say of their lieutenant colonel.

"The copperheads of the '60s who would not fight on either side, yet assumed to know how campaigns should be fought and won, were of the same class as these latter day criminal ignoramuses, who stab in the dark. Grant was assailed for cowardice; every military hero of modern times has had the same experience. Every soldier candidate since the civil war has been attacked by men who know no more of military matters than they know of common honesty and manly principles. There are many low lived scoundrels who are willing to destroy a reputation for political gain. But their tactics meet with no encouragement from honest men in either party, and therefore do not succeed. The expectation that they will be successful in this case is an insult to the intelligence of Pennsylvania."

To Disprove Facts. It is Decidedly Easy to Verify Bellefonte Opinion.

Nothing by the way of introduction could be added to the experiences and opinions given below, which could increase their value. Bellefonte people can safely be left to draw their own conclusions based on such convincing proof as this citizen offers, What is there lacking in evidence like this to satisfy a dyed-in-the-wool-doubting-Thomas?

Mr. Walter Whippo, of Water street, leading Horse-shoer of Bellefonte, says:—"I have a good word to say for Doan's Kidney Pills. I was miserable with backache and a lameness across my loins. I knew it was from my kidneys, for I had suffered from it prior to that. Sometimes I could hardly straighten after bending forward which greatly interfered with my work. I learned about Doan's Kidney Pills, procured them at F. Potts Green's drug store and began using them. I had taken other medicines and worn plasters but I never had anything act so promptly as Doan's Kidney Pills. I have been quite free from the whole trouble ever since."

The Musician's Adventure.

The professional life of the celebrated musician, John Bernard Logier, was one of a most diversified character, and contained many passages of exciting interest. At one time he was organist of the parish church of W—, where his family resided. This church, as is very often the case in country towns, was at a considerable distance from any dwelling house, and was approached only through an extensive burial-ground. To add to its loneliness, it stood near the seashore; it was also reported to be haunted by the ghost of a suicide who was buried without the fence of the graveyard, and who nightly frequented the church to sue for Christian burial. It was even whispered by the peasantry that the bell had been heard to toll at midnight; probably his ghostship thought that if he could induce the people to come and hear his afflicting case they might grant his request; but all to no purpose; he still performed his sad peregrination alone, or, it may be, in company with a select coterie of other unfortunates.

The noble proprietor of the estate, the Marquis of S—, had just presented to the church a fine new organ and on the coming Sabbath it was to be opened and performed on for the first time.

Logier had been on business to a city at some distance and did not return home until late on Saturday night, when, learning that some of the arrangements were, still incomplete, he determined, in spite of all dissuasion, to proceed to the church himself. So taking in his hand a lantern he set forth.

Such a night! The elements seemed combined to deter him from his rash enterprise but on he went, "boldly whistling aloud to keep his courage up." Tis true, now and then some German legend would cross his mind but he only whistled the more vehemently. At last he reached the lone graveyard, and through the lone grave y ard the church, whose gray tower was occasionally visible amid the flashes of lightning. Its usual noisy inhabitants, the rooks, were ominously still, only uttering at intervals a distressing caw, as if suffering from bronchitis; and the hands of the old clock pointed to half-past eleven.

Still Logier was not afraid. Oh, no. It was chilly and any one's teeth would chatter; besides, the organ would take but a few minutes to fix, and then to think of to-morrow's aurels! So he just glanced carelessly toward the side of the graveyard where the suicide was said to be interred and, opening the door with a key that he kept himself, entered closing it after him, and ascended to the organ loft.

The interior appearance of the church was not more cheering than the outside. The lantern he carried bid little more than "make darkness visible," but the lightning discovered many a monument and grim old effigy, and many a coat of arms with its banners pendent.

Amid the pealing of the thunder, the howling of the tempest and the roaring of the sea Logier set to work whistling, however, this time the "Old Hundred" or some similar tune and soon he became so absorbed in his occupation that he "took no note of time," though busily engaged on other notes.

The clock strikes twelve. It seems to him that every toll calls up a spirit. The storm increases, the drapery and banners are flapping and low-moaning sounds seem to issue forth "from the low vaults the mansions of the dead." His whistle gradually becomes minor and very adagio with a close shake—but hark, what shriek is that? It is followed by another and another. Logier's hair stands on end, his whistle faints away in a false cadence, great drops of perspiration stand on his forehead and his candle flickers—flickers in its socket and—it goes out.

This was too fearful; as he crept to the stairs, with the intention of making the best of his way out, a blow in the face from some spectral hand somewhat accelerated his pace, and horror, [illegible] as he opened the door the skirt of his coat was seized with frantic energy by an unseen hand. Logier tore himself away, leaving the skirt behind banging the door after him, and dashed out into the graveyard, followed by the despairing shouts of the specters and the wild, mocking laughter of fiends.

In the pitchy darkness he lost his way, and after stumbling over some ancient tombstones, had recourse to his hands and knees. In this attitude he pursued his way for a considerable length of time, when a flash of lightning discovered to his terrified vision the vicinity of the suicide's grave. He could see through the paling that it looked disturbed Ah! then its tenant had indeed left it for his nocturnal watch, and might be even now returning.

Here was a dilemma. There was no time to lose; Logier quickly resumed his eccentric gymnastics in another direction; found the gate, and, making use of the vehicles most in demand, set out for home at a good round rate; which home, drenched forlorn, minus one coat—tail, plus sundry rents in other garments—the consequence of aforesaid gymnastics and with a firm belief in ghosts, he reached as the clock struck one.

Save to his wife (who, of course, was blest with an inquiring mind), Logier said not a word of his adventure, for the subject was too serious to mention; besides, ghosts do not like to be made a common subject of conversation, so he went to church.

Nothing could exceed in sublimity the effect of the organ under his command; the singing, too, was exquisite—all were enchanted, After divine service the attention of the assembled wiseheads was called to the fact that a robbery had been attempted the night previous, the sexton corroborating the fact with a stray coat-tail which had been found fastened on a nail near the front door; he also had found a lantern in the organ loft, which the sacrilegious villains had probably left behind on some sudden alarm. Some of the windows were broken, but whether by the robbers or storm could not be ascertained. Some owls' feathers were likewise strewn around, and a dead bat was lying near them. The blow of a bat's wing does very likely feel similar to that of a spectral hand.

Logier held his peace, and a soon as he reached home darkly hinted that it might be as well to say nothing of that last night's visit to the church, particularly as the ghost might not like it.

Advertises Itself.

We were recently reminded again of the fact that a good thing, after it get a-going, advertises itself.

Prof. Sanders in an address before a large audience at the Pine Grove camp meeting used the Empire State Express in illustrating safety and accuracy in mechanics, saying in substance: "When the traveler boards the Empire State Express at Grand Central Station, New York, at 8:30 this morning, he is certain as a man can be of almost anything, that he will land safely in Buffalo at 4:45 this afternoon."

That was a great "puff for that famous train, and we are passing it along. The New York Central management dropped that "good thing" into existence and advertised it thoroughly, and now the people are 'doing the rest,"- Millerton (N. Y.) Telegram.

Monday afternoon, October 23, Morris Bush, youngest son of Frank Bush a prominent farmer of Boggs township, Clearfield county, went with his gun to the woods, where his father and brother were working. When he reached them young Bush placed his gun on a mossy log and while talking to his brother the gun slipped off and struck the hammer. The contents of the gun were discharged into Morris's arm, passing clear through it, shattering the muscle and making him a cripple for life. The discharge was so close to the brother that his face is badly scorched. The unfortunate victim of the accident is about 20 years old and is engaged to be married.

Catarrh of the Stomach.

could often be prevented had the patient with a stomach and digestive organs predisposed to weakness been stimulated by some such pure wholesome power as contained in the vegetable pepsin out of which Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets are prepared. But the world is finding it out—medical science is making rapid strides—and the sufferers are not having their pockets "bled" for a cure—18 tablets 10 cents.—5.

He Jumped Into the River.

Ablaze from head to foot John Fry of Williamsport, saved his life Saturday night by diving into the Susquehanna river. With a party of older boys, young Fry played soldier on the bank of the river. They erected a small stone fortress, on top of which a 10-inch cannon was mounted. Five pounds of powder were stored behind the stone pile. Becoming chilly, the boys lighted a fire, which burned briskly about ten feet from where the powder was wrapped in an old newspaper. While Fry was standing over the fortress talking with his comrades a spark fell on the powder, and in an instant it was ignited. The tongue of fire caught young Fry on the breast and limbs. In an instant he was a mass of flames. Retaining his presence of mind, Fry rushed to the water's edge, threw himself into the river, extinguishing the flames. His clothing was almost entirely burned from his body, but he escaped serious burns.

COMMUNISTIC FILIPINOS.

General Wheeler Says They Are Two Thousand Years Behind the Times.

Nashville, Oct. 30.—In a letter from General Joe Wheeler, in the Philippines, to his cousin, Van Leer Kirkman, dated Santa Rota, Isle of Luzon, the general says:

"The insurgents have a great antipathy to the priesthood, or friars, and they have dismantled many of the churches. The more I talk to the people the more I am confident the insurgents are actuated, in a measure, by a spirit of communism. One of Aguinaldo's most earnest demands is that the church property be confiscated.

"There is a general impression that the insurgent army is made up very largely of people without property, and that people who have property desire the Americans to control, so that they can have protection and feel that their property is secured to them, but I find that there is also fear or apprehension among some of the wealthy that if Americans control and give universal suffrage the power of the wealthy people would be taken away and turn their hold on property very much impaired. I think that if the wealthy people would be assured that they would be protected in their property rights it would have a very good effect.

"A statement that 70 per cent of the people of Luzon can read and write is a great mistake. It may be true of many, but it is not true of those in the rural districts, and the percentage of illiteracy in the other islands is much greater than in Luzon. Teh appearance, mode of life and method of performing work are today very much like they are described in the Bible at the time of and even before the Christian era. The people dress very much as they did 2,000 years ago."

AN INDIANA STREET DUEL.

One Man Dead and Another Dying in a Fight With Tennesseans.

North Salem, Ind., Oct. 30.—A desperate street fight between members of a Tennessee colony recently located here and citizens of North Salem Saturday resulted in the instant death of one man, the fatal wounding of another and minor injuries for many others. The dead: William Mackey, a Tennesseean. Wounded: William Ragan, a druggist of North Salem, will die.

Trouble has been brewing for some time, and it came Saturday, when a number of the Tennesseeans started a row in Ragan's store. The proprietor tried to quell the disturbance, but found himself in imminent danger of being trampled and beaten to death. He ran behind the counter, secured two revolvers and opened fire. Instantly pistols were drawn by everybody, and the fight spread out into the street, where it became general Women fainted and unarmed persons in the vicinity of the battle sought shelter in stairways and behind telegraph poles. More than 25 shots were fired, but no one can tell or will tell who fired the fatal shots. The Tennesseeans are vowing vengeance, and the citizens are arming and organizing for an attack.

Not a Victim of "Initiation."

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 30.—The coroner's inquest held over the body of Edward F. Berkeley, of St. Louis, a Cornell student, who was drowned last Friday at Geneva, rendered a verdict that the drowning was accidental, and no individual or society was in any way liable. It was asserted that the death resulted from a part of the initiation ceremony of the Kappa Alpha Fraternity. The affair had no connection with the initiation.

The Slosson-Shaefer Billiard Match.

New York, Oct. 30.—The big Slosson-Schaefer three nights billiard match will open here tonight in Madison Square Garden concert hall. Both the wizard and the student have been hard at practice for over two weeks, and both have shown exceptional form. The conditions of the match call for 900 points at cushion caroms, 300 each evening, and the stakes are $500 a side. The betting is even money.

Thieving County Treasurer Sentenced

Nevada, Mo., Oct. 30.—Ex-County Treasurer Frank F. Parker, found guilty of embezzling $26,000 of county funds, has been sentenced to three years and six months in the penitentiary.

A MILITARY PAGEANT

Escorted General Henry's Body Through New York Streets.

BODY TAKEN TO WASHINGTON.

There It Will Be Interred With Heroic Dead in Arlington Cemetery—"The Rule in Porto Rico," From the Pen of Gen. Henry, Will Soon be Published

New York, Oct. 30.—The largest and most impressive military funeral parade since the death of General William T. Sherman took place yesterday when the body of General Guy V. Henry was removed from his residence to the Pennsylvania railroad train that conveyed it to Washington, where the interment will be made in Arlington cemetery.

The services at the residence were conducted by the Rev. John Huske, of St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal church, and consisted of simple prayers, lasting not more than ten minutes. The coffin was partially covered with a silk American flag. Numerous floral pieces were on the mantels and a few on the foot of the coffin. The immediate family, relatives and the most intimate friends were present at the house service.

The honorary pallbearers were General A. S. Webb, Major Azel Ames and Major Francis H. Mills, of the Loyal Legion; Colonel Daniel Appleton, Dr. Albert Shaw, William R. Corwin, Henry Hamilton Lewis and Gilbert K. Harroun. The military pallbearers were Colonels John S. Rodgers, J. W. Clous, Peter D. Vroom and Tully McCrea, Lieutenant Colonels Carl A. Woodruff and John P. Myrick, Major J. B. Burbank and Captain B. K. Roberts. Lieutenant T. B. Mott, of the Seventh artillery, was present as officially representing the United States government, and went to Washington with the body.

While the services were being conducted in the house three national guard regiments, the Seventh, Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first, marched down Madison avenue and took positions in readiness for the parade. The Second battery, Captain Wilson commanding, lay on Thirty-first street, and a caisson was brought up in front of the door ready for the coffin. Upon the caisson was draped a large American flag, and eight horses were attached, each near horse having a rider.

In spite of the rain at the time of the services a large crowd collected, but it was kept in check by a detachment of mounted and foot police. It had been the intention of Captain Wilson to have the same caisson that was used at the funeral of General Sherman, but it was found that that caisson was in the United States arsenal, and was kept as a memento. One of the battery caissons was therefore used, and that will be kept in a similar way, a large silver plate being placed upon it, marking the occurrence.

After the services in the house were finished the coffin was carried out to the caisson by eight artillery sergeants from the surrounding military posts and who acted as body bearers during the services. The caisson was then driven up Madison avenue as far as Thirty-third street and the carriages with the family and honorary pallbearers followed. The carriages then turned and proceeded down the avenue, immediately following the Seventh regiment, and followed by the Sixty-ninth and Seventy-first regiments. As the procession started the Seventh regiment band, augmented to 75 pieces, started Chopin's funeral march, which was played unceasingly to the ferry house at Twenty-third street. Thence the funeral party was taken to Jersey City, and started for Washington at 1 o'clock.

Just before General Henry's death he had completed a number of papers on the campaign and rule in Porto Rico. While they were not edited or completed, or ready for publication, they will soon be published in book form under the title of "the Rule in Porto Rico."

The funeral train arrived in Washington at 6:10 o'clock last night. The body was taken to St. John's Episcopal church, to lie in state under a guard of honor until the funeral today.

A Threatened Lynching Prevented.

Baltimore, Oct. 30.—John Henry Jackson, a negro, 37 years old, was brought to the Baltimore jail yesterday charged with criminally assaulting Agnes Eurice, 17 years old. Miss Eurice's father is a blacksmith and resides at Stemmer's Run, Baltimore county. It is alleged that Jackson threw a bag over the yound lady's head, carried her into the woods, near her father's shop, and left her unconscious after accomplishing his purpose. Jackson was brought to the Baltimore jail to prevent a possible lynching.

"Divine Healer" Dowie Mobbed.

Hammond, Ind., Oct. 28.—John Alexander Dowie, the "divine healer," was mobbed here last night while attempting to deliver an address. He was chased down the street by a yelling crowd, and but for the fact that he managed to catch a flying trolley car just ahead of his pursuers he would have suffered serious injury.

Army Captain Dies From an Operation

New York, Oct. 28.—Captain Charles H. Lester, U. S. A., retired, died last night as the result of an operation for cancer of the mouth. The operation was performed Tuesday and the patient failed to rally from the shock. He was 56 years of age, and leaves a widow. He was a classmate of General Guy V. Henry.

After Senator Morgan's Seat.

Montgomery, Oct. 27.—Colonel John D. Roquemore, of this city, yesterday announced his candidacy for the United States senate to succeed Hon. John T. Morgan. Colonel Roquemore is a lawyer and has never been an office-holder except to represent Barbour county in the state senate. The contest promises to be extremely warm. Senator Morgan and ex-Governor Oates are the other candidates.

TRANSFORMATION IN CUBA.

What American Enterprise Is Doing For the Manicaragua Valley.

Havana, Oct. 30.—General Wilson says there is no section of Cuba, laboring under the same disadvantages, which is more rapidly recovering from the effects of war than Manicaragua valley, which is 20 miles from the railroad and accessible only by almost impassable thoroughfares, yet so enterprising and so rapidly being reconstructed that in two years, in the opinion of General Wilson, its tobacco output will surpass that of any previous year. Capital from Boston and Baltimore has transformed the district into quite an American settlement. A friend of General Wilson, who visited the locality recently, after a considerable interval, said:

"I found a complete transformation. Formerly there were less than half a dozen houses standing, and the devastation of the district was heart-rending. Now new houses are to be seen in every direction. Several hundred Cubans are employed, and American mules, mowing machines and corn planters have taken the place of Cuban plows and oxen."

General Wilson says he knows of no section that yields quicker results to labor and capital or offers a better illustration of the possibilities of American enterprise in Cuba.

Murder Followed a Wedding.

Scranton, Pa., Oct. 30.—While returning from a Sunday wedding in Old Forge last evening Angelo Pelom, a Moosic boarding house keeper, was shot and killed one of his boarders, Antonio Spinello. Genelo Passero, another boarder was present and witnessed the affair, but was too frightened to capture the murderer. He, however, joined in the chase and is still scouring the woods with others of his countrymen looking for the fugitive. Spinello insulted the boarding boss, and the latter turned like a flash and shot him four times.

Bloodhounds to Hunt a Murderer.

Watkinsville, Ga., Oct. 30.—Saturday night, in High Shoals district, Will Pierce, a negro, killed Walter Puryear and fatally wounded Mrs. Puryear and his (Pierce's) wife with an ax. Pierce had been separated from his wife, who was making her home with the Puryears. Pierce called on his wife, and was asked to remain. The killing was done while the family was asleep. Sheriff Overby left for the place last evening, accompanied by bloodhounds.

Seven Years For an Abortionist.

Peoria, Ills., Oct. 30.—The jury yesterday returned a verdict of guilty in the Dr. Belle Howard murder trial, and the prisoner was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary. Dr. Howard was tried for performing a criminal operation resulting in the death of Hughetta Binkley, of Dublin, Ind. Fred Patee, president of the company employing Miss Binkley, was sentenced to five years on a charge of being an accessory.

Cuba Not Ripe For Self Government.

Washington, Oct. 30.—General Fitzhugh Lee, in an interview yesterday, said the people of Cuba are steadily improving under the existing protectorate of the United States, and are slowly but surely rebuilding their war wasted homes and repairing their crippled fortunes. He thinks the time not ripe yet, however, for a purely Cuban government.

Burglarious Ex-Soldier Shot Dead.

Lincoln, Ills., Oct. 30.—John Petter, a recently discharged volunteer soldier and a native of Oakland, Cal., was shot and instantly killed at 2 o'clock yesterday morning while with a gang of robbers attempting to rob a general store at Beason. As Petter started to enter the watchman in the store shot him in the head. The rest of the gang fled.

The Mountain Fires.

The mountain fires are still raging with great fierceness in this vicinity a great deal of damage to timber is being done. The flames are now within a half mile of town. From Thursday night until Friday night the fire burned from the vicinity of Coleville to below the nail works. The fire was within a few rods of the nail works and a score of men were kept at work last night fighting in order to save this property.

The fire has been burning since Monday and is ablaze for a stretch of thirty miles on Nittany, Brush and Muncy Mountains, entirely surrounding Bellefonte, It is impossible to estimate correctly the damage done, but it is much more than $100,000, as thousands of feet of lumber, hundreds of cords of paper wood and bark and square miles of valuable timber have been destroyed.

Very little fighting of the fire has been done owing to the uncertainty of pay, the Centre County Commissioners having already paid out the $1,000 allowed by law and still owe more than $300 to fire-fighters. Under such conditions men refuse to respond to the call of the fire wardens for help, and unless rain soon falls all the mountains in this section will be devastated.

BILIOUSNESS!

Do you get up with a headache?

Is there a bad taste in your mouth?

Then you have a poor appetite and a weak digestion. You are frequently dizzy, always feel dull and drowsy. You have cold hands and feet. You get but little benefit from your food. You have no ambition to work and the sharp pains of neuralgia dart through your body.

What is the cause of all this trouble?

Constipated bowels.

Ayer's PILLS

will give you prompt relief and certain cure.

Keep Your Blood Pure.

If you have neglected your case a long time, you had better take

also. It will remove all impurities that have been accumulating in your blood and will greatly strengthen your nerves.

Write the Doctor.

There may be something about your case you do not quite understand. Write the doctor freely: tell him how you are suffering. You will promptly receive the best medical advice. Address,

Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

A New Section of Town.

Clement Dale, Esq., the well known attorney, of this place, has received from the Valentines and Thomas Trustees a letter of attorney executed by them authorising him to make sale of one hundred acres of land lying south of the borough line in Spring township, bounded on the north by the southern line of Bellefonte borough, on the east by the old Lewistown pike, on the south by the Grove farm and on the west by land of the Empire Iron Company. The greater part has already been laid out in town lots, interspersed with streets and alleys. Some of the streets are named as follows: Belleville street, Lincoln street, Nittany avenue and Railroad avenue. The view from this part of the land is one of the finest in or about town. In fact the view from Belleville street is much finer than from Curtin street. The southern part of the tract is adapted to making an excellent fair ground and trotting track and in the spring a company will be formed to lay out the ground for this purpose.

This section of town will be known as New Bellefonte and will make one of the prettiest parts of the town when once built up.

Hobart a Very Sick Man.

Despite statements to the contrary, Vice President Hobart is still a very sick man. He is, as a rule, denied to callers, receiving only his most intimate friends. Whenever the weather is good he drives out with Mrs. Hobart, but a very slow pace, stopping every now and then. On the best authority it is stated that it is very doubtful if he can recuperate sufficiently between now and December to preside over the next session of the United States Senate.

The Vice-President himself is hopeful, and will not admit that his illness will interfere with his official duties at Washington. His private secretary, Hobert Tuttle, says: "Mr. Hobert is better one day, and not so well the next."

A Tiny Sermon.

Did it ever occur to you that if you allow a woman her freedom in dress she will never fail to express her true character. She may be clothed in costly lace and silks with diamonds and jewels, yet the true character of the woman will reveal itself to you, True it is that gold measures mind. Silks, satins, ribbons, feathers flowers and laces often makes an unpleasant transformation of the woman whose beauty of face and figure would be striking, if they could have the accompaniments of neat fitting dress without any extra furbelows. The loveliest type of womanhood is not decked in gaudy or extravagant dress, but in apparel charming in its simplicity. Modesty in dress is always pleasing to the eye.

Shot a Gray Fox.

The other day a pheasant was shot in the heart of the city and Friday a large gray fox was killed in Great Island cemetery. The fox was seen first in Mr. Drummond's chicken yard. It then ran through that gentleman's garden and jumped the fence into the cemetery, where Joseph Beachler shot it. He was given the two dollars bounty by the commissioners.—Lock Haven Democrat.

—It is stated that the old Fall Brook passenger coaches now in use on the Pennsylvania division of the New York Central railroad are to be replaced by the Central standard coaches.

PRESIDENT PROCLAIMS A DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

The President has issued the following Thanksgiving Day proclamation:

"A national custom dear to the hearts of the people calls for the setting apart of one day in each year as an occasion of special thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings of the preceding year. This honored observance acquires with time a tenderer significance. It enriches domestic life. It summons under the family roof the absent children to glad reunion with those they love.

"Seldom has this nation had greater cause for profound thankgiving:

"No great pestilence has invaded our shores. Liberal employment waits upon labor.

"Abundant crops have rewaded the efforts of the husbandman. Increased comforts have come to the home.

"The national finances have been strengthened, and public credit has been sustained and made firmer.

"In all branches of industry and trade there has been an unequalled degree of prosperity, while there has been a steady gain in the moral and educational growth of our national character.

"Churches and schools have flourished. American patriotism has been exalted. Those engaged in maintaining the honor of the flag with such signal success have been in a large degree spared from disaster and disease.

"An honorable peace has been ratified with a foreign nation with which we were at war, and we are now on friendly relations with every power on earth.

"The trust which we have assumed for the benefit of the people of Cuba has been faithfully advanced. There is marked progress toward the restoration of healthy moral conditions, and under wise sanitary regulations the island has enjoyed unusual exemption from the scourge of fever.

"The hurricane which swept over our new possession of Porto Rico, destroying the homes and property of the inhabitants, called forth the instant sympathy of the people of the United States, who were swift to respond with generous aid to the sufferers.

"While the insurrection still continues in the island of Luzon, business is resuming its activity, and confidence in the good purposes of the United States is being rapidly established throughout the archipelago.

"For these reasons and countless others I, William McKinley, President of the United States, do hereby name Thursday, the thirtieth day of November next, as a day of general thanksgiving and prayer, to be observed as such by all our people on this continent and in our newly acquired islands, as well as by those who may be at sea or sojourning in foreign lands; and I advise that on this day religious exercises shall be conducted in the churches or meeting places of all denominations, in order that in the social features of the day its real significance may not be lost sight of, but fervent prayers may be offered to the Most High for a continuance of the Divine guidance without which man's efforts are vain, and for Divine consolation to those whose kindred and friends have sacrificed their lives for country.

"I recommend also that on this day, so far as may be found practicable, labor shall cease from its accustomed toil and charity abound toward the sick, the needy and the poor.

"In witness whereof I have set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"(Signed) WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

ADDS HIS EVIDENCE.

Story is the Same as From Other Sources.

Lots of Money Spent but no Returns Have Been Received.

The people in Bellefonte willingly add their evidence to that which has already been given in favor of Morrow's Kid-ne-oids, the best remedy that has ever been sold in this city for backache kidney and urinary disorders, sleeplessness and nervousness. Our druggists report wonderful cures and state that Kid-ne-oids are daily increasing in the opinion of our people. Kid-ne-oids act directly upon the kidney and nerves and restore them to their natural condition. Good kidneys make good blood, good blood makes strong nerves, Kid-ne-oids make good kidneys and strong nerves.

Mr. Richard Gunsallus, Water street, Works for McCalmont & Co says For about five years I was annoyed by disordered kidneys, I suffered with a constant pain in the small of my back which would be attended by sharp shooting pains through my back just over the region of the kidneys. The pains would be so severe I could not sleep nor rest. The secretions from the kidneys became highly colored and irregular I took Morrow's Kid-ne-oids for my trouble and can cheerfully say that I never took anything that proved as effectual as Morrow's Kid-ne-oids They gave me relief in a very short time.

Morrow's Kid-ne-oids are not pills but Yellow Tablets and sell at fifty cents a box at all drug stores and at F. Potts Greens drug store.

Mailed on receipt of price. Manufactured by John Morrow & Co. Chemists Springfield, Ohio.

REGIMENT READY TO LEAVE.

Forty-seventh's Preparations for the Journey to Manila.

Harrisburg, Oct. 27.—The officers of the Forty-seventh Regiment are getting the men of the command into shape as rapidly as possible in preparation for the sailing of the regiment for Manila from New York. As the orders are now the men are to leave Camp Meade for Brooklyn on November 1 and will immediately go on board the transport Thomas. Word reached the camp today that the ship was being provisioned and prepared for the long voyage by way of the Suez Canal and that Secretary of War Root was to inspect it. The regiment is complete, and the "weeding out" of the unfit men has been made to the satisfaction of the commanding officers.

The Forty-first Regiment is complete except for the band, which still wants a few men.

Major William Ennis, in command of the Harrisburg recruiting station. has established a sub-station at Chambersburg.

Catarrh for Twenty Years and Cured in a few Days.

Nothing too simple, nothing too hard for Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder to give relief in an instant. Hon. George James, of Scranton, Pa., says: "I have been a martyr to Catarre for 20 years, constant hawking, dropping in the throat and pain in the head, very offensive breath. I tried Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. The first application gave instant relief. After using a few bottles all these symptoms of Catarrh left me.—2.

Meeting of the Penn'a Dairy Union.

The Pennsylvania Dairy Union will hold its next annual meeting and dairy exhibit at West Chester, December 5th and 6th. The organization represents Pennsylvania's dairy industry, which is the largest of the State's agricultural interests. A very excellent program has been arranged which includes such prominent speakers as G. A. Smith, of New York, E. B. Voorhees, of New Jersey; Prof. Cochran, of West Chester, R. A. Pearson, of Washington, and others prominently identified with the dairy interests.

A large display of dairy products and machinery will be made and substantial prizes will be offered for butter and cheese.

Reduced rates have been secured on the principal railroads, and ample hotel accommodations have been provided for. A cordial and urgent invitation is extended to all interested in dairying to attend this meeting and to assist in emphasizing this feature of Pennsylvania agriculture.

For programs, premium lists and information concerning this yearly gathering of dairymen, address,

I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart—One dose gave great relief. one bottle cured the Dropsy and my heart."—Mrs. James Adams, Syracuse, N. Y.—1. "Sold by F. Potts Green.

THE VANDERBILT WILL.

Alfred's Concession to Cornelius Was Not a Gift.

MADE TO AVERT LITIGATION.

The Eldest Son of the Dead Millionaire Would Have Contested His Father's Will Had Not Alfred Agreed to Increase the Amount Given to Him.

New York, Oct. 28.—The Tribune says: The provisions of the will of Cornelius Vanderbilt have excited intense interest. From certain remarks it appears that this settlement alone, effected after long discussions, prevented a contest that might have resulted in one of the greatest and costliest will litigations ever known. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., when he learned the provisions of his father's will, placed his interests in the hands of his counsel, Carter & Ledyard. They conducted negotiations with Henry B. Anderson, the attorney of Alfred Gwyne Vanderbilt. Enough has been admitted to indicate that had Alfred not made the concession mentioned litigation would have followed. When Cornelius was seen he dismissed the subject briefly by saying:

"Whatever arrangements may have been made was effected through my attorneys, Carter & Ledyard. I have no comment to make upon the settlement. It was a family arrangement, and not a gift."

It was learned from a trustworthy source that Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., is much disappointed by his father's will and the attitude in which he has been placed by his brother's handsome concession, and that he will withdraw from any further participation in the affairs of the Vanderbilt properties. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., is described by those who know him intimately as a reticent young man. He took his disagreement with his father much to heart, and after his marriage tried in every way to overcome the difficulty. He entered the office of the superintendent of motive power of the New York Central, and went to work to prove his merit. He worked early and late, and never asked more than any other employe. He did everything he could to prove to his father his serious intentions. He never complained, and never allowed an opportunity to pass without trying to secure a reestablishment of the former cordial relations between himself and father.

It is further asserted that he had hoped and believed he had succeeded in gaining his father's favor. The two men did not discuss the subject, but for hours father and son talked cordially at the Breakers in Newport and also in this city. The young son of Cornelius, Jr., was often taken to the Breakers, and Mr. Vanderbilt manifested a keen enjoyment in seeing his grandson. It is said that in the light of these talks and the fondness displayed by his father for the baby Cornelius, Jr., believed that he had regained his father's favor, and would share at least equally with Alfred, should he not be the chief heir. It is said that he will soon retire from the place in the New York Central office and go into the banking business as a partner of his father-in-law, R. T. Wilson.

SENATOR MASON'S RESIGNATION.

A Report That Governor Tanner Will Be Appointed His Successor.

Chicago, Oct. 28.—The Times-Herald says: Senator William E. Mason's threat to resign unless the administration's present foreign policy is changed may be executed before Christmas. Persons who assume to be well informed insist that he will step out immediately, in pursuance of an arrangement which will change the whole face of Republican politics in Illinois. The story, as widely circulated, runs to this effect: Senator Mason will resign in a few weeks to take a high salaried position—$12,000 or more a year—with one of the biggest corporations in the country, having headquarters in Chicago. Governor Tanner will then resign and Lieutenant Governor Northcott, on succeeding to the governorship, will appoint Tanner to the vacant senatorship.

Flocking Into Cape Colony and Natal.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The British government has reported to the United States that large numbers of people from the South African republic and the Orange Free State have flocked into Cape Colony and Natal for temporary residence during the war, and that every effort will be made to deliver their mails. It is assumed from this that the British have a list of refugees from the Boer country.

Sustaining England's War Policy.

London, Oct. 28.—The parliamentary bye-election for the Bow and Bromley division of Tower Hamlets, London, held yesterday, was fought on the government's Transvaal policy, and resulted in a big victory for the government, the Conservative candidate, Mr. William Guthrie, being elected by 4,328 votes, against 2,123 votes cast for his Liberal and Radical opponent, Mr. Harold Spencer.

Big Order For Freight Cars.

Pittsburg, Oct. 28.—The Commercial Gazette says the Pennsylvania Company and the New York Central Railroad company have just placed orders for coal and freight cars to the number of 15,000, the aggregate cost of which will aggregate about $12,000,000. Both companies endeavored to get steel cars, but as their orders could not be filled within a year they were compelled to take wooden cars with steel equipments.

Railroading a Black Brute.

Lumberton, N. C., Oct. 28.—Ed Blount, a negro, who attempted to assault Miss Mallory Moore and her younger sister, as they were returning from church Thursday night, was captured and tried before Judge Dorsey Battle yesterday. Blount was convicted and sentenced to 15 years at hard labor. He reached the penitentiary 28 hours after the committal of the crime.

A TREACHEROUS ALLY.

Wealthy Bisayan Was Plotting to Aid The Filipino Rebels.

Manila, Oct. 28.—An informal meet tiago, one of the wealthiest Bisayans who had taken the oath of allegiences to the United States, and who posed as a friend of Americans, has been arrested at Iloilo, while other Bisayans are being watched. The prisoner is charged with organizing a revolutionary junta. Santiago owns sugar estates throughout the island of Negros. It is asserted that a council of ten and the manager of the junta met daily at Santiago's office for the purpose of engineering an extensive scheme of collections for an insurrection. One of Santiago's steamers was captured carrying supplies to the rebels. His arrest caused rumors of an outbreak of the natives of Iloilo, and precautions have been taken to prevent trouble.

A battalion of the Eighteenth regiment and the marines of the gunboat Concord form an expedition at Conception, northern Panay, which is searching for the Concord's coxswain, who was lured ashore by a white flag and who is supposed to be a prisoner. They found the place deserted and burned every house as a punishment.

General Young's column, which left San Isidro Thursday morning at daybreak, encountered the enemy strongly entrenched just beyond the Tuboatin river. A brisk fight ensued and the rebels were repulsed. Two Americans were killed and one wounded. Pursuit was impossible, on account of the width and depth of the stream.

A SINGULAR MURDER CASE.

Two Indians Killed Their Insane Chief On His Order.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 28.—R. G. Chamberlain, of the Dominion police, Ottawa, and B. J. Bannatyne, Indian agent at Lacselu, arrived yesterday with three Indians in their custody. Two of the Indians are charged with shooting their chief last winter at Cat Lake, about 350 miles northeast of Dinordwic. The story told by the two prisoners is substantially as follows:

The chief of the Cat Lake Indians, called Ah-Wah-Sa-Keh-Mig, became insane, and ordered the prisoners to shoot him. A council of the tribe was called, and they discussed the matter for two days, when they arrived at the conclusion that the chief's orders would have to be obeyed. The chief lay down in his wigwam and indicated with his hand where they were to shoot him. After he was dead wood was heaped upon his body and the fire kept going for two days, thereby, according to the belief of the Indians, thoroughly destroying the evil spirit of the chief.

McCoy Defeats Stift.

St. Louis, Oct. 28.—The initial boxing entertainment of the West End Athletic club was held last night at its new quarters in the Mammoth Coliseum. "Kid" McCoy appeared with Billy Stift, of Chicago, as an opening. Stift showed that he was a fighter, and several times had the "Kid" in a ticklish position. In the thirteenth round, however, Stift was knocked down and out.

No China-Japan Alliance.

London, Oct. 28.—Inquiries at the foreign office show that the report published in the United States that Siam has joined the "China-Japan offensive and defensive alliance" is so utterly improbable as not to merit attention. The officials of the foreign office are not even aware that there is any "offensive and defensive alliance" between China and Japan.

That Cough Hangs On

You have used all sorts of cough remedies but it does not yield; it is too deep seated. It may wear itself out in time, but it is more liable to produce la grippe, pneumonia or a serious throat affection. You need something that will give you strength and build up the body.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

will do this when everything else fails. There is no doubt about it. It nourishes, strengthens, builds up and makes the body strong and healthy, not only to throw off this hard cough, but to fortify the system against further attacks. If you are run down or emaciated you should certainly take this nourishing food medicine.

ROBBERS AT STATE COLLEGE.

Finebergs Store and the Residence of Abe Miller Broken Into.

On Tuesday night robbers broke into Finebergs store at State College and stole eighteen gold watches, several gold chains and a pair of shoes. They gained an entrance by cutting out a pane of glass in a window in the rear of the store. The manager of the store estimates the loss at $200.-00.

On Wednesday night the midnight marauders gained an entrance to the residence of A. V. Miller and stole $30.00 in cash. Mr. Miller keeps a boarding house and his door is left open late at night and in this way the thieves gained an entrance

The thieves were very evidently familiar with the house as they seemed to know right where the money was kept and nothing else was touched.

There is no clue to the perpetrators of the robberies but it is evident that they were parties living in the town and familiar with both Fineberg's store and Miller's house.

DEATH OF MRS. F. PEEBLES GREENE.

Passed Away Saturday Night at 11:30 at Her Home In this Place.

On Saturday evening at 11:30 o'clock Levenia E., wife of F. Peebles Greene passed away at her home on South Water street. Mrs. Greene had a severe attack of the grip about a year ago from which she never fully recovered. It finally settled into a complication of diseases which resulted in her death as above stated.

Deceased was born at Philipsburg, Centre county, Jan. 20th 1835 making her age at time of death 64 years 9 months and 8 days. Her maiden name was Burris and she was married June 14th 1857 to F. Peebles Greene at Iowa City, Iowa. She is survived by her husband and the following children; Ida M., of Bellefonte; Edgar B., of Altoona and Elmer C., of Erie, Pa The youngest daughter, Anna R., died on August 20th 1899.

Deceased was a sincere christian lady and a member in good standing of the Methodist Episcopal church of this place.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Short services were held at her late residence on South Water street after which the remains were taken to the Methodist church where services were conducted by Rev. William A. Stephens.

The pall-bearers were detailed from Gregg Post No95 G. A. R. and were the following named gentlemen: Gen. John I. Curtin, Col. Amos Mullen, Col. George A. Bayard, A. V. Hamilton, Lafayette Mullholland, Samuel Sheffer, Thomas Donachy and Squire W. H. Musser. Interment in the Union Cemetery.

While here they enjoyed a most successful four days hunt up Bald Eagle accompanied by John Trafford and Charles Heisler. As a result they brought home 27 pheasants, 37 quail and 2 squirrel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bressler of Lancaster spent Tuesday in Bellefonte. Mr. Bressler is a son of the late Dr. Charles H. Bressler who was many years ago a prominent citizen of Bellefonte. Mr. Bressler was born in our little city and this has been his first visit to the place of his birth since a boy some thirty seven years ago. It is needless to say that he saw little to remind him of the memory of boyhood days.

Quality

Never experiment with so important an article as the human food

It is the high quality of Royal Baking Powder that has established its great and world-wide reputation.

Every housewife knows she can rely upon it; that it makes the bread and biscuit more delicious and wholesome—always the finest that can be baked.

It is economy and every way better to use the Royal, whose work is always certain, never experimental.

There are many imitation baking powders, made from alum. They may cost less per pound, but their use is at the cost of health.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK

Miss Myra Holliday left on Thursday for Philadelphia where she will spend the winter

Dr. Mary Irvin Thompson, whose office is in Altoona, Pa. met with a driving accident while on a visit to her parents, at Lemont, Centre county, last Saturday. She and several ladies were out in a carriage, when the horse took fright and ran away. Dr. Thompson was thrown out on her face, which was cut and bruised. The other occupants escaped injury by jumping when the horse started on its mad race.

MISS RACHEL A. HICKLEN.

Died Saturday Evening at Unionville-Aunt of Cheney Hicklen of this Place.

Miss Rachel A. Hicklen died at her home in Unionville Saturday evening about 8:30. She had been ill for over a year with a complication of diseases. For about twenty-four years of her life or up until within a year ago, she was a resident of Philadelphia.

Deceased was born in Chester county and was in her sixtieth year. She was an aunt of our townsman Cheney Hicklen and leaves three brothers and one sister namely: Enos T. Hicklen, of Mt. Eagle; Harlan Hicklen of Allegheny City; John C. Hicklen, of Philipsburg and Mrs. Susie Tipple, of Duluth, Minn.

Miss Hicklen was sincere christian lady a member of the society of Friends and one who enjoyed the love and respect of all who knew her.

The funeral took place Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. Interment in Dix Run cemetery.

A Former Bellefonte Lady Weds.

The Philipsburg Journal contains the following account of the wedding of a former Bellefonte young lady.

The marriage of Miss Ida Tate, of Grahamptom, and Ben J. McCann of this city, took place at the pastoral residence of Rev. Father L. P. Kumerant, corner Second and Beaver streets, at half past 10 o'clock Monday morning. The ceremony was witnessed by the immediate relatives and friends of the couple only. Miss Agnes Hitch, of St. Augustine, Cambria county, was maid to the bride, and Wm. Mulson, in town, acted as best man to the groom.

The bride, who is a very pretty and most estimable young lady, being well and favorably known in Philipsburg, has the best wishes of a host of friends, a large number of whom reside in Bellefonte, the former home of Miss Tate. The groom is a well known young business man of this place being associated with his brother, Robert McCann, in the sale of sewing machines.

Mr. McCann and his wife left Monday evening for a wedding trip to Pittsburg, and on their return will go to housekeeping here.

—The tannery that burned at Curwensville two month ago, and which many thought would be rebuilt at Clearfield wil be erected again at the former place, just across the creek from where it stood before, and on a much larger scale. The people of Curwensville naturally feel good over the matter.

HOME FOR TRAVELERS.

Why Such a Large Patronage Is Enjoyed by the Coburn Hotel.

One of the most marked interior hotel transformations that has taken place in Centre County for some time is the well known and popular hostelry at Coburn, under the proprietorship of Simon R. King, who is proving himself as one of the best, most reliable and at the same time most accommodating landlords to be found in a dozen counties. Every room and all the apartments have been repainted, repapered and refurnished throughout, so that today the premise virtually present an entirely new appearance. In addition to all this is the thorough culinary supervision so completely presided over by Mrs. King, the landlady, than whom there is no better to be found anywhere. Taken all together, there is no more convenient nor entertaining place for travelers to stop than at the Coburn House. When people are traveling and away from home the hotels are their home, and the best ones at a reasonable price are those where they stop. This is what brings such a large trade to the hotel in question.

Is it Malaria or Alum:

[Popular Science Monthly.]

Languor, loss of appetite, indigestion and often feverishness are the common symptoms of a physiological condition termed "malaria." All these symptoms may be and frequently are the effect of the use of alum baking powders in food making. There is no question about the poisonous effect of alum upon the system. It obstructs digestion, prostrates the nerves, coagulates and devitalizes the blood. All this has been made clear, thanks to physicians, boards of health, and food commissions. To "highly injurious to the health of the community" does the eminent head of the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Baker, consider the alum baking powders, that he says "their sale should be prohibited by law."

Under these circumstances it is worth the while of every housewife to employ the very little care that is necessary to keep so dangerous an element from the food of her family.

A pure cream of tartar baking powder, which is the only kind that should be used, ought to cost about forty-five to fifty cents a pound. Therefore, if you are paying much less, something is wrong, if you are paying twenty-five cents or less per pound, the powder is certainly made from alum.

Always bear these simple facts in mind when purchasing baking powder.
